Premier Post in Egypt Given Back to Naguib

Nasser Steps Back to Vice Premier Post

Popular Leader Now Has All Jobs Back as Attempted Purge Fails

CAIRO (AP) — Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib took all his old jobs back today in Egypt's military government. The man who deposed him 12 days ago, Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, stepped back to the vice premiership he held originally.

Guidance Minister Salah Salem tensely announced Naguib's reinstatement as premier and chairman of the ruling Revolutionary Council. Naguib already had taken back the presidency after being ousted from all three posts and placed under guard at home Feb. 25 on charges he sought to become a "dictator."

Joint Meeting Held

Salem said the incidents of Naguib's ouster were erased at a joint meeting of the Revolutionary Council and the civilian Cabinet late last night as though they had been nothing more than "a passing cloud."

Nasser, who had been president during the three days of Naguib's eclipse and premier and council chairman since, said in an interview today the full restoration of Naguib was made to end all quarrels before resumption of negotiations for withdrawal of British troops from the Suez Canal zone.

Salem said the regime still held to its March 5 decision to establish a constituent assembly—an interim parliament—by July 27, and to abolish the two-year-old rule of martial law and local press censorship. It was Salem who had announced Naguib's resignation and accused the popular, pipe-smoking army man of seeking absolute powers.

Idolized by Natives

Naguib has become a near idol to millions of Egyptians hoping for an end to the feudal rule which has gripped this strife-torn Middle East country. But Nasser is regarded as the strong man of the revolution and has been the chief negotiator with the British on the deadlocked Suez issue.

One of those who attended the heavily guarded, four-hour joint meeting last night said it was Nasser who suggested Naguib be given back his old posts, provided he give up his earlier demands for powers to veto the council's decisions and to hire and fire Cabinet ministers.

"The council and Naguib welcomed the suggestion," the informant said.

The council also canceled out another decree signed only yes-

Bank Robbers Get $30,000 at Milan

MILAN, Ohio (AP)—The Erie County United Bank here was held up by two men today and police reported about $30,000 was taken.

The holdup men, described as dark complexioned, fled in a car with Ohio license Q23R Police Chief William Kmalley said.

Full details were lacking, but police said one of the men flashed a pistol. The other man was believed unarmed.

Meeting Set Monday

Discussion of Levy For Schools Slated

A meeting of Marion civic, service and business groups next Monday night to discuss a proposed school levy was called for last night when the Marion City School Board of Education met in the school administration building.

Some 20 groups will be invited to send representatives to the meeting planned for the Harding High School lunchroom at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be similar to one held in 1951 when a school levy was proposed and later approved by the voters.

Groups Invited

Among the groups which will be asked to send representatives are: Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Real Estate Board, Manufacturers Council, Civic Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, WMRN, The Star, Y Men, Altrusa, City Council-PTA's, King's Daughters, 20-30, Child Conservation League Federation, League of Women Voters, CIO, AFL, Junior Service Guild, Business and Professional Women, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Federation of Women's Clubs and the Exchange Club.

Tentative plans call for placing the levy on the May primary ballot. Money from the levy will be used mainly to build kindergartens in seven elementary schools and to increase teachers' pay. If the levy is approved on the May ballot, it is hoped that the kindergartens will be operating by fall.

Points to Need

Public school superintendent L. L. Dickey pointed out the need for increased teacher pay here by comparing Marion's salaries with 18 other Ohio cities of similar size and makeup. Marion ranked last in average teacher salaries. He also said Ohio schools will need 2,700 more teachers next year than colleges and universities can put out and that Marion should raise its salaries to draw good teachers.

Other figures he cited from the 18-city study to show the need for the tax levy were Marion's rank as: 1. 13th in current operating resources per pupil; 2. 17th in per pupil valuation; 3. 18th in salary scale.

Dickey suggested a tax levy of three mills. This would mean a salary increase of about 15 per cent.

The board last night also heard a proposal for a YMCA outpost recreation project sponsored by the Y Men's Club. The Y Men have tentatively proposed to open Silver St. school's gym and athletic facilities for two hours, one night a week from September through June for recreation activities. In addition, the Y men will

Bus Line Head Studies Bid on City Franchise

A Springfield bus company which last week indicated an interest in starting a new bus company in Marion took an active interest after a visit of company officials to the city Monday afternoon.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson said he met with Chester Baker, company president, and another company representative and took them on a tour of the city.

Both seemed highly interested after seeing the bus garage formerly used by the Marion Transit Co. and a talk with John Davis, president of Local 222, Transit Workers of America, Mayor Robinson told City Council at its meeting Monday night.

He said Baker had requested a copy of the franchise under which the Marion Transit Co. operated, along with a city map. Baker planned to make a study of the needs and possibilities of providing bus service in Marion and decide whether or not to make a proposal to the city from the results of his study, he told Mayor Robinson.

His was the second company to display an active interest in the Marion bus franchise. Last week, Rolland E. St. Johns, president of a large bus company with headquarters in Dayton, met with Council. He asked for a week to ten days to complete his plans and make a definite proposal to the city. His proposal is due Thursday.

The search for a new bus company began two weeks ago after the Marion Transit Co. quit service in the face of mounting losses.

Dulles Scores New Victory In Venezuela

Five Nations Consent To Join United Front Against Communism

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The United States gained ground today in the 10th Inter-American Conference with its plan for united action to halt communism in this hemisphere.

Five Latin-American nations—Brazil, the Dominican Republic, Paraguay, Honduras and Nicaragua threw their support to the new "Dulles Doctrine" in sessions yesterday.

Haiti Backs U. S.

Haiti also called for anti-Red action "not in conflict with the principles of non-intervention."

Underlining the importance President Eisenhower's government puts on the issue, Dulles canceled a speaking engagement in Philadelphia tomorrow to continue his personal watch on the progress of his anti-Communist resolution. Discussion of it in the Political-Juridical Committee was expected to take several more days.

The U. S. resolution would call for the 21 Americans republics to consult and act jointly against Communist seizure of power in any of the American states, just as they now are pledged to repel jointly invasion by a foreign aggressor. It would also provide for disclosure of identity, activities and sources of funds of persons spreading Communist propaganda or traveling in the interests of the Red cause.

Mexico Joins Move

Mexico submitted an amendment to expand such joint action to all forms of totalitarian intervention in the Americas.

Launching the committee debate yesterday, Dulles answered Guatemala's demand that he define international communism. He described it as "that far-flung clandestine political organization which is operated by the leaders of the Communist party of the Soviet Union." He said one of its aims was to bring parts of the Western Hemisphere into its grip.

Brazilian Foreign Minister Vicente Rao said he would prefer to speak of "Soviet interventionism" rather than Communist penetration. He warned that "inter-American interventionism"—one American nation interfering with the affairs of another—should not be permitted to mask under the guise of anti-Communist action.

Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa, Nicaraguan ambassador to Washington, said his nation also rejected a state's intervention in the affairs of another "to impose its one-sided will," but joint action against foreign ideas threatening peace and harmony in the continent is not intervention.

Mexico's position still was not clear. Foreign Minister Luis Padilla Nervo told the plenary session his government rejected the idea that the mission of watching over national institutions has "become a question of international character, subject to collective action."

Each nation, Padilla declared, should be the judge of what is subversive activity within its territory, according to its own laws and constitutional precepts.

Vandenberg Worse

WASHINGTON (AP)—The condition of Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg has taken a turn for the worse, a Walter Reed Hospital spokesman said early today.

The famed 54-year-old flier, who retired as Air Force chief of staff last June, has been in the hospital since Oct. 3. Nature of his illness has never been officially disclosed.

Senator Asks To Be Heard On Radio-TV

'Delegating Authority To Defend Me to No One,' He Tells Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, it now is known, handpicked Vice President Nixon to fire back the Republican party's reply to charges by Adlai Stevenson that the GOP is using "slander, dissension and deception" to try to win the coming congressional elections.

McCarthy Wants To Speak

But Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), while terming Nixon an "excellent choice" to speak for the party, made it clear last night he still expects NBC and CBS to give him free radio and TV time to reply to what he called a "vicious attack on me personally" by Stevenson, the Democrats' 1952 presidential candidate.

"I am delegating to no one the authority to defend me," McCarthy told newsmen in New York after he had learned the two big networks had rejected his demand for equal air time but had agreed instead to give the Republican party a 30-minute rebuttal period next Saturday night.

The Wisconsin senator hinted strongly he might take the matter to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), of which his friend, Robert E. Lee, recently became a member. The FCC licenses and regulates radio and television operations.

McCarthy Blasted

Addressing a big Democratic rally in Miami, Fla., last Saturday night, Stevenson aimed much of his attack at McCarthy, whom he accused of seeking to lead the Republican party to a "malign and fatal totalitarianism." The titular leader of the Democrats also said the Republicans are divided "half McCarthy and half Eisenhower."

Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee, claiming that Stevenson had "impugned the Eisenhower administration," got in ahead of McCarthy yesterday with a formal bid for equal radio and TV time to reply. He stressed that Stevenson spoke as leader of the Democratic party.

Thus, Hall wired both big networks that "this is not a matter for personal rebuttal by any individual"—an apparent reference to McCarthy.

Ike Makes Suggestion

High administration sources said last night Eisenhower himself made the suggestion that the Republican National Committee seek free radio-TV time to answer Stevenson and that it was the President who chose Nixon to speak for the party. The President, it was reported, phoned the idea to Hall, who already had moved in the same direction.

One informed source indicated that the strategy was "to get McCarthy out of the headlines and get our story across."

It was understood in this con-

Revision Made In Proposals of Charter Group

Commission Acts On Procedures for Hiring City Officials

The Marion City Charter Commission last night at its regular meeting in the YMCA made extensive revisions in the work it had accomplished in the past.

The revisions involved procedures for the appointment and removal of three important city officials—the solicitor, the director of finance and the assistant director of finance.

Previously the decision of the commission had been that these officials be appointed by the City Council. For some time there had been discussion but no decision on who should supervise these city officials, the Council or the city manager.

In a prolonged discussion of this problem last night, the 12 members present of the 15-member commission delved deeply into the whole question of responsibility under the city manager plan, the form of government the group has proposed for Marion.

Many opinions were expressed that the city manager is the administrator of the government and should not be "hamstrung" with finance officers and law officers he could not control, that Council is still the governing authority and should have control over the purse strings, that it would be vesting too much authority in the city manager if he appointed these officials, and that on the contrary the beauty of the city manager plan is the centralization of responsibility in one man, the city manager.

In the end, an informed vote was taken on these alternatives—Council, appointment by the city manager, or appointment by the

Wable Linked To Weapon by Ex-Sweetheart

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — State prosecuting attorneys called another round of witnesses today in the trial of John Wesley Wable, charged with killing a trucker on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The state is fitting testimony about a gun and idle talk in a jail cell together with a written statement to build its case of circumstantial evidence against Wable.

Wable, 24, of Ohiopyle, Pa., sat quietly in Westmoreland County court, where he is on trial for his life, and heard his former sweetheart tell the jury yesterday about a gun Wable once showed her.

Leora Crissey, 22, of Cleveland, identified the weapon exhibited by the state as one Wable once showed her in a drive-in movie and later left in a china closet at her mother's home.

A state police ballistics expert told the jury the gun fired fatal shots into the heads of Harry F. Pitts of Bowling Green, Va., and Lester B. Woodward, 39, of Duncannon, Pa.

Break in Line Lowers Water Pressure Here

A break in the Marion Water Company's 24-inch pipe today at 1:30 a.m. caused water pressure in the downtown area to be slightly below normal.

Repairmen have been working on the break all day and normal service probably will be resumed about 8 p.m., company manager L. Otis Porter said. The break occurred about one-half mile east of the pumping station, located west of the city.

All water now is being pumped under direct pressure through the 16-inch pipe. The standpipe, an elevated reserve supply, was in operation until 6:45 this morning but now is shut off.

All valves in the 24-inch pipe were closed within 45 minutes of the break, Porter said.

Porter said the break was about four feet long, starting on top of the pipe and running down the side.

About a half-mile of water must be drained from the pipe to repair the break, Porter said. The break was caused by expansion and contraction of the pipe, possibly resulting from the temperature change.

GOP Considers Fair Play Code By Committees

Policy Group Studying Plan for Toning Down Investigative Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leaders called a meeting today to discuss steps that might be taken to persuade committees to make their investigative procedures fair to everyone.

The question arose in the wake of a public row between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens.

Hold Closed Meeting

A closed meeting of the Senate GOP Policy Committee followed introduction by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) yesterday of a bill to establish by law "a code of fair play" for congressional investigations.

Douglas said the approach taken by Republican leaders, based on persuasion rather than legislation, amounted only "to a pious hope that committees will reform themselves."

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the policy committee, was due to report to the GOP committee on his survey of existing Senate committee rules and discussion of possible improvements with individual committee chairmen.

Republican Leader Knowland of California already has said each committee has the unquestioned right to accept or reject any suggestions growing out of the study.

President's View

At a news conference last week President Eisenhower said Knowland had advised him that "effective steps are being taken by the Republican leadership to set up codes of fair procedure."

The President's statement, dealing indirectly with the storm over the questioning of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker by McCarthy at a one-man hearing, said Congress

Talks to Lions Club

William Saxbe, Senator Candidate, Speaks Here

William Saxbe, candidate for U. S. senator in the Republican primaries in May, speaking to the Marion Lions Club yesterday, recommended that citizens take an active part in politics.

Saxbe, the youngest speaker of the House of Representatives in the history of the Ohio General Assembly, appealed to the Lions Club members to take interest not only on a national basis, but also in counties, cities and wards.

"Unless you do, you are not assuming your responsibility. The time to be interested is right now, before a primary." He said this applied regardless of which party one supports.

THE CANDIDATE for the post now held by Thomas A. Burke, former Democratic mayor of Cleveland appointed by Gov. Lausche to fill the vacancy resulting from the death of Robert A. Taft, said he was not going to make a political speech. He did not once refer to his opponent in the Republican primaries, Rep. George H. Bender of Cleveland, or what he would do if nominated and elected.

INSTEAD, HE confined his remarks to the accomplishments of the recent 100th Ohio General Assembly. He declared repeatedly the session did a "highly commendable" job. School Library Hit

Review of Fiction Books Ordered by Galion Board

GALION — Immediate removal of all books in the fictional section of Galion Junior and Senior High School libraries until they are reviewed and approved by a committee was ordered in a 3-2 vote by the Galion Board of Education at the March meeting Monday night.

The motion made by board member, Russell Nichols, provides the books be returned to the shelves at the discretion of the committee which will be named by the board president, Grant West. Three members of the board who formed the motion were Charles Cunningham, Nichols and West, and voting against the motion were Robert Ricksecker and Robert Campbell.

Considerable controversy over the proposal took place before the vote.

At the last meeting, Cunningham suggested that such a committee be set up when he presented three books from the school library which he said he considered immoral and unfit for high school students to read. The books were, "Anthony Adverse" and "Toward the Morning" by Hervey Allen and "Native Son" by Richard Wright. He then asked a member of the Galion Ministerial Association to have the association review the books and report to him personally.

At Monday night's meeting, Cunningham read a letter written by Rev. Father Kenneth Hans, priest at St. Joseph's parish, which stated that he thought all books for students should have educational value and he hadn't found

House Battle Lost

Ike's Hopes To Stave Off Tax Slash Rest in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some key Republicans said today the Eisenhower administration faces probable defeat in trying to stave off a wide range of excise tax cuts.

A bill to reduce many of these "nuisance" taxes comes up in the House tomorrow, with leadership backing and with no organized opposition in sight there or in the Senate.

Concedes Defeat

President Eisenhower evidently conceded defeat in the House when he conferred yesterday with GOP congressional leaders.

Leaders said the administration would not oppose House passage of the bill to slash about 930 million dollars a year off taxes on movie tickets, furs, passenger fares, telephone bills, cosmetics, luggage, handbags and wallets, jewelry, cameras, sporting goods and other items.

But they announced, after the White House conference, that the administration would fight to knock out some of these reductions when the bill hits the Senate. The administration position is that the government cannot afford to lose the revenue.

Other Provisions

The bill would slice to 10 per cent all excise or sales taxes now above that level, except those on liquor and tobacco, effective April 1.

The proposal also would cancel about one billion dollars in reductions now scheduled for April 1 in excise taxes on liquor, cigarettes, automobiles, gasoline, trucks and buses, beer and wine. Eisen-

Concert Association Opens Membership Campaign

Members Attend Dinner At YMCA, Hear Talk On Future Program

The general membership campaign of the Marion Community Concert Association got under way Monday as workers set out to enroll 1,500 members in the 1954-55 season. A kickoff dinner last evening in the YMCA was attended by some 65 members and guests.

This marks the 10th anniversary of the Concert Association and this year, as in former years, an outstanding season will be scheduled. One of the numbers already has been selected. In April next year, the Rochester Symphony Orchestra, with Eric Leinsdorf as director, will be heard. Other artists will be chosen following the close of the campaign next Saturday.

Dr. W. Neil Price, presided for the meeting, and introduced the guests, Jack Maxwell, editor of The Marion Star, and Mrs. Maxwell, and A. L. Martin, commercial manager of WMRN.

TALKS WERE GIVEN by the various chairmen and announcement was made of the winners in the student poster contest.

Speaker was Mrs. Edith LeRoy, representative of Community Concerts, Inc. who gave a short talk and answered questions regarding the concert programs throughout the country. She stressed the personal touch brought by the artists and pointed out that while radio gives the listener a voice, and television the image and voice, only the concert stage can bring the voice, image and personality of the artist.

Headquarters have now been set up at the H. Schaffner Store, as in former years. Miss Mary Heininger, membersip chairman, also is chairman at headquarters. Starting today the headquarters will be open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day and from noon Friday until the closing time. The headquarters will be closed at 5 p.m. Saturday. The headquarters telephone is 2-9276.

A CHECK ON the progress of the campaign will be made at 11 a.m. Thursday, it was announced.

George Lane is chairman for the student campaign. He is being assisted by Carolyn Bradley, Craig Anderson, Patty Matthews, Nancy Boger and Sally Schneider. Student tickets sell for $3 for the season. Adult memberships are $6.

Winners in the poster contest are Kay Montgomery and David Axthelm, Harding High School, and honorable mention was given to Phoebe Frew, Marilyn Harris, Nancy Cramer and Norman Hartman.

Arrangements for the dinner were in charge of Mrs. Lewis Wills, social chairman, Mrs. A. G. Birch and Mrs. John F. Lacey. Silhouettes in black and pink candles in black wrought iron holders decorated the table.

WORKERS in the campaign contacted membership - holders for their renewals in a canvass held last week.

Members holding 1953-54 memberships are eligible to attend a performance of the Longines Symphonette tonight at Mt. Vernon. Local members may attend programs at Galion, Mt. Vernon, Norwalk, Bellefontaine, Newark and Kenton by presenting their membership cards.

Union Deputies Kept Busy by Traffic Deaths

Two Fatalities Occur In Seven-Hour Period; 1 Dies Near Richwood

MARYSVILLE — Union County Sheriff's department investigated two fatal traffic accidents within a seven-hour period Saturday night. Both accidents were one-vehicle collisions.

At 4:15 p.m. Saturday on State Route 31, just north of Sumersville, a 42-year-old Bellefontaine man, Cletus Underwood, was killed when his truck crashed into a telephone pole. About 11:20 p.m., Jerry Bowers, 25, of Raymond, was killed when the car he was driving crashed into the left side of a bridge on State Route 4, four miles south of Richwood.

Bowers' northbound car apparently went out of control and struck the left side of the Fulton Creek bridge. He was thrown from the car onto the bridge and died instantly. A companion, Ronald DeWolf, 18, of near Peoria, O., suffered lacerations and bruises, but was released later from Marysville Hospital. Bowers' body was first taken to the Ballinger Funeral Home here and later to the Winters Funeral Home at Raymond.

In the mishap on Route 31, Underwood was the driver of a pickup truck owned by a passenger in the vehicle, Delbert Williams, 42, of Bellefontaine. A third occupant of the truck was Miss Mary Lee Ison, 28, of Mansfield. Williams suffered minor cuts and bruises and Miss Ison was released Monday from the Marysville Hospital after treatment for shock and bruises.

Union County Sheriff Walter T. Galloway said the Underwood truck was traveling south on Route 31 when it veered off the right side of the road, skidded across the highway and crashed off the left side into a ditch and a telephone pole. The car was demolished.

Underwood's body was taken first to the Winters Funeral Home at Raymond and later transferred to Missouri.

Ohio Central Telephone Co. Cited by PUCO

Ordered to Improve Service in 30 Areas Including Caledonia

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state utilities commission today ordered the Ohio Central Telephone Corp. to improve service in 30 of its 46 exchanges which it operates in 22 counties.

The commission in its 14-page order also told the company to inspect the remaining 16 exchanges and make improvements if they are necessary. The company has its headquarters at Lima and has exchanges in these counties:

Trumbull, Mahoning, Portage, Columbiana, Richland, Crawford, Marion, Morrow, Wayne, Holmes, Coshocton, Muskingum, Licking, Knox, Delaware, Fairfield, Madison, Fayette, Pickaway, Warren, Clinton and Greene.

The commission noted in its order, "No telephone company's service can be properly classified as satisfactory as long as the subscribers are unable to obtain in the class . . . and the amounts of service that they need and are willing to pay for."

Two complaint cases heard by Commissioner Ralph A. Winter in October of 1952 and July of 1953 and protests over a rate increase granted the company last April 16 brought about today's order. The order detailed 11 ways for the firm to better its service and management functions.

Pius Regaining Strength, Says Vatican Source

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius is increasing his solid diet daily and regaining strength lost through his serious illness, Vatican sources said today.

These sources said the 78-year-old pontiff's ability to take greater amounts of solid food "has provided optimism for his steady and full recovery."

The pope, stricken six weeks ago by a serious gastric ailment, was unable to retain nourishment for the first days. Then he was fed solely on liquids for a lengthy period. The lack of food sapped his strength to a dangerous extent.

It was revealed today that when he first attempted to return to a solid diet two weeks ago he "suffered a relapse."

But "the Pope is now eating a mixed diet of solids and liquids without being upset," the sources said. They added he still has a long period ahead before returning to a completely normal diet.

The pontiff, confined to his bed for many days, now is reported moving about his Vatican Palace apartment for longer periods each day and devoting an ever-increasing amount of time to church affairs.

nection that Hall did not contact McCarthy before asking the networks for rebuttal opportunity.

McCarthy, arriving in New York after a brief Miami vacation, said Hall was "entirely correct" in regarding the Stevenson speech as an attack on the GOP. McCarthy, in fact, called it an "intemperate attack." But he added:

". . . Mr. Nixon is speaking for the party. I'm speaking for myself."

"The FCC rules," he asserted, "provide that I must be given time to answer these charges . . . I intend to do everything I can to make the television companies live up to their obligations."

Commission sources said last night FCC's basic law requires that candidates for public office be given "equal opportunities" on the air. But this would not seem to cover the present situation since no one involved is an active candidate.

However, these sources also said the commission has tried in the past to see to it that broadcasters treated all controversial issues fairly.

The surprise developments of last night were another chapter in a long conflict inside the Revolutionary Council. Nasser was the behind-the-scenes engineer of the bloodless coup which ended the monarchy, exiled King Farouk 20 months ago and set Naguib up as revolutionary hero. He was known to favor keeping the council as supreme power even after the constituent assembly was elected. Naguib, on the other hand, was said to have wanted the council to step into the background when the interim parliament took over.

Wable

The two truck drivers were found shot to death last July within three days of each other in parked trucks on the toll highway.

Miss Crissey told the jury Wable showed her the weapon before the men were killed, but he did not leave it at her mother's home until last August, after the slayings.

The testimony about the jail talk came from Charles Walch, 20, of near Uniontown, Pa., who was in jail with Wable at Uniontown last September.

Walch told the jury:

"One evening he (Wable) asked me if I'd believe something if he told me. He told me he was the turnpike slayer. I said 'Well, you could be and you couldn't be.' "

Welch and Wable were in jail for minor offenses.

A state policeman and a detective testified Wable made oral statements and later a written one implicating himself in the turnpike slayings. But always the lanky man denied pulling the trigger, the policemen said.

A square dance Saturday night at the Claridon School will honor Mrs. Virginia Veness, a polio victim.

Sponsored by the Claridon Homemakers Club, proceeds from the dance to be held from 8 p.m. to midnight will go to the Magnetic Springs Polio Center.

Mrs. Veness, who was stricken by the disease last August, returned home recently after spending five months in University Hospital at Columbus. Not fully recovered, she is confined to a wheel chair.

Mr. and Mrs. Veness formerly lived on the Edison Pk. near Marion, but recently moved into a new home in a housing development just east of the city to make it more convenient for Mrs. Veness. Her husband, William Veness Jr., is employed by the General Telphone Company of Ohio.

The public is invited to the dance for which admission is $1. Home made pie and cake, coffee, and chicken sandwiches will be served. Hugh Johnston will be caller for the square dance.

111 Puerto Ricans Served Subpeonas

NEW YORK (AP) — Subpoenaes were served on 111 Puerto Ricans here and in Chicago yesterday in a sudden move connected with the shooting of five congressmen in Washington last week.

The swift drive was the largest peacetime serving of federal witnesses in connection with a single conspiracy.

Mrs. Rosa Collazo, wife of a would-be assassin of former President Harry S. Truman, was among the 91 persons subpoenaed here. Her husband is now serving a life sentence.

The witnesses here will be questioned by three grand juries investigating the local activities of the party.

has responsibility for seeing that its committee procedure are fair and proper.

The bill offered by Douglas and Humphrey is similar to measures previously introduced but on which no action has been taken by the Senate Rules Committee.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), chairman of the rules committee, recently referred to the policy committee study of investigative procedures as "much ado about nothing."

Douglas told the Senate he had noted "with great concern that the Republican Policy Committee does not propose to take positive action on the President's recommendations or on the various bills previously introduced to improve investigating procedures."

"Instead," he continued, 'it is proposed to make 'suggestions' to committee chairmen for revised rules of conduct which, if adopted, could be reversed by the next chairman, or by the sitting chairman, at his merest wish."

have a Saturday program at the YMCA and an outdoor recreation program three mornings a week in the summer.

The board approved the Y Men's proposal, suoject to working out the details. The Y Men asked to take on the project on a temporary basis.

In other action, the board: 1. voted to buy shades in the Harding High music room; 2. studied a petition from parents living north of Center St. and West of Monroe St. asking for a bus to transport their children to school while the city bus lines are disrupted; 3. decided not to act on a transfer of Marion Local School District land to the Marion City District due to litigation pending in court; 4. accepted electrical work on the Mark St. School as of Feb. 25; 5. turned over to the PTA Council information on school insurance policies and asked the council to make recommendations.

Driver Education

Cecil W. Gabler, Harding principal, reported to the board on senior scholarship and a driver education survey. Gabler said that Harding graduates, at last tabulation, were averaging almost a B in college work. He said that Harding this year did well on the senior scholarship tests, placing the top 9 in the county and 23 of the top 30. Last year Harding had 13 of the top 25.

Gabler gave the board findings from a driver survey at Harding and recommended that a driver education course be included in the 10th grade health class.

Suggestions were heard for starting the program in the eighth grade to include many students who have driver's licenses by the time the 10th grade course is offered. His recommendation calls for a classroom course on traffic safety and courtesy, to complement the present practical driving course.

Next month's board meeting was changed from the second Monday of the month to the first Monday, April 5. The May meeting was reset for the second Tuesday, May 11.

Bucyrus Students Try New Schedule

BUCYRUS — A slightly-altered time schedule went into effect Monday at Bucyrus High School, Principal F. H. Laman announced today.

By eliminating the morning home room period and altering the lunch hour to avoid the heavy factory traffic, students will be dismissed 15 minutes earlier in the afternoon.

Classes will begin at 8:35 a.m. (three minutes earlier) and 12:42 p.m. (eight minutes earlier.) The lunch hour will be from 11:35 to 12:35 instead of the former 11:50 to 12:50 and the school day will end at 3:45 instead of 4 p.m.

The schedule will be in effect on a trial basis during the remaining two six-week periods of the school year, Principal Laman said.

hower has urged this cancellation.

Two members of the Senate Finance Committee said in separate interviews that when the bill reaches there, they are inclined to go along with the cuts despite administration opposition.

Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) said the bill seems to offer an "equitable solution" to the excise tax problem. He noted there are demands to eliminate entirely many of the taxes.

Sen. Malone (R-Nev) said he, too, was inclined to go along with the proposed cuts.

Sen. Martin (R-Pa), however, said balancing the federal budget is the "overriding issue" and he would oppose the tax cuts unless they are balanced with new spending cuts.

Gadget on Parking Meter Lets Violators Pay Off Fine on Spot

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Fuming drivers who wouldn't be caught dead—no less alive—in the police station to pay a parking fine have found salvation at last in the "Traf-o-teria."

The litiltle device, installed recently on all parking meters here as an experiment, turns potential nonpayers of parking tickets into law-abiding citizens. Indications are it's going over big with the paying customers.

A motorist here receives a parking ticket and an envelope. If he puts the ticket and 50 cents into the envelope and places it in the Traf-o-teria, an aluminum box attached to the parking meter, the fine is considered paid. Wait 48 hours and the ante goes up to $1.

Police Chief Albert Dodd thinks the pay-as-you-drive boxes will be a bonanza in enforcement of the city's traffic codes.

"Used to be," reflected Dodd, "women were pretty reluctant to come to the station, and they'd give the tickets to their husbands, who chances are, would forget to pay them. Now the women pay better than men."

Overtime parking fines collected in the boxes during the first month of "Operation Traf-o-teria" totaled $40, Dodd said, a 135 per cent increase over the previous month's take.

Conceding that a few nasty notes crop up along with the ticket envelopes, chewing gum, match covers, and assorted loot when the collecting officers empty the boxes, the chief insisted that so far public reaction has been "quite favorable."

Saxbe

starting late and allowed lobbyists to sit on the chamber floor. It was not "uncommon" he said, for lobbyists to be "pulling on the sleeve" of representatives while they were voting.

These abuses were corrected in the 100th Assembly, Saxbe said. No session was more than 30 seconds late in starting and lobbyists sat in the gallery. "Everything was done in an open manner and on a high plane."

CONCRETE productive work listed by Saxbe as having been done by the last Assembly was the passage of a revised code for the state, wherein obsolete laws governing such things as "canal boats, tow paths and working on roads in lieu of taxes" were removed. He said Marion County Rep. Kenneth A. Robinson was very active in the two-month-long task of writing a code an "average man could read."

Other illustrations cited by Saxbe included appropriation of $8,500,000 to give Ohio the "finest penal institutions in the nation," and legislation streamlinging the highway department and school systems.

THE MOST IMPORTANT accomplishment of the 100th Assembly, Saxbe said, was the highway improvement program. He described Ohio as a "bridge state," meaning that traffic from all parts of the nation pass through Ohio, and trucks are "bottled up" here. He said 65 to 70 per cent of the trucks are non-Ohio owned, and that it wasn't fair to "soak" Ohio truckers when out-of-state companies used highways the most. Therefore, he explained, the controversial axle-mile tax, as well as a one-cent per gallon gasoline tax, were levied to pay for a half-billion dollar highway improvement program. He said an attempt was being made to concentrate a 20-year program into eight years, and he criticized the Department of Highways for not spending the money fast enough.

He pointed out that the 100th General Assembly had been Republican while Gov. Lausche was Democratic. He said the legislators had set out to cooperate with the governor, Lausche, according to Saxbe, had vetoed 14 bills; 13 of those had been overruled later by the law-makers.

He said the Assembly session wrote a history of "kept promises."

"It took every item in the Republican platform that could be passed and passed it. The only way we can bring respect to politics is when we say we'll do something, we do it."

Saxbe has served four terms in the Ohio legislature. He is from Mechanicsburg.

Man Fined $25, Costs

Paul Hitchcock, 57, of 445 Shady Nook, was fined $25 and costs in Marion Municipal Court today when he pleaded guilty to two charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct. Police said they arrested him at a filling station he operates at N. Greenwood and E. Farming St. at 8:42 p.m. Monday night after receiving complaints he refused to give some children change due them after they made a purchase in the filling station. He was released after he paid his fine and costs today.

New Grid Coach Named At Denison University

GRANVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Denison University announced today appointment of Keith W. Piper head football coach replacing Jack R. Carl.

Piper has been line coach for the past three years. Carl resigned to enter business at Norwalk.

any in the three books. He said the novels were far too mature for high school students and commended the school board for its step in having the books removed. He said four members of the association were in agreement with his letter and a fifth was not ready to report since he hadn't had an opportunity to read them.

RICKSECKER gave his opinion against such action in a lengthy statement which he read to the board. He said he believed in a well-balanced library. He added that he wanted his children to be useful citizens and have an understanding of other people as to their way of living. He said they should know of realities. To remove all of the fictional books would stunt their growth, he said. He agreed with the opposing board members that the book, "Native Son," is too advanced for student reading.

Ricksecker also said that he would not feel qualified to serve on a committee to review the books and he said he didn't think other board members would be qualified either. He recommended that the board employ a qualified professional librarian.

He told the board that he had a number of letters he would like to read from other citizens who were in agreement with him, however, three board members said they did not want to hear the letters and that they were in agreement with the Ministerial Association.

IN ANSWER to Ricksecker's question about who would be asked to review the books, Nichols said he felt persons connected with the Galion Public Library would be satisfactory. The question also arose as to how students will be able to secure reading circle books to complete their requirements since they sometimes have difficulty in getting them at the public library. Other questions as to who will remove the books and where they will be stored were asked.

Sitting in on the meeting were parents of children from the southeast section of the city who have children who cross the John street railroad crossing. They objected to not having a watchman at the crossing and having only the protection of the school safety patrol. They also brought up the issue of the W. Railroad St. road where children face speeding cars after they have crossed the railroad. The board agreed to assume half of the expense of hiring a watchman at the crossing for two and a half hours daily until the end of the school year. The board will contact the city administration to provide a crosswalk for pedestrians and the parents agreed to contact the city for paying their share of the watchman's salary.

Board President West appointed a teachers' screening committee to study all future applicants for posts in the school system. The committee includes three board members, Nichols, Ricksecker and Cunningham, along with the Superintendent of Schools Marion E. Shank and the principal under whom the teacher would serve. The board voted at last month's meeting to authorize such a committee.

Car Strikes 2 Parked Autos on E. Center St.

One minor traffic accident on city streets was reported today by Marion police. The state highway patrol and sheriff's deputies reported no accidents on county highways.

The accident in the city occurred at 12:54 a.m. today when a car driven by Thomas A. Grutch, 19, of near Galion struck two cars parked in front of 451 E. Center St. Owners of the parked cars were Robert P. Schirk and Lyle Hulse both of 451 E. Center St.

Charter

city manager subject to approval by the Council.

A majority tentatively approved the third plan, so that as it now stands, the solicitor, director and assistant director of finance would be appointed by the city manager and approved by Council if the city charter is accepted by the voters of Maron.

With this change in appointment procedures, it became necessary to revise the method of removal so as to allow the city manager to fire his appointees. This was so voted by the charter commission last night.

Another change in previously-approved proposals was voted. Tentatively approved was the plan to have municipal funds paid by check signed by the assistant director of finance after a voucher had been signed by the director of finance. No countersignature would be required. The finance director corresponds to the auditor under the present system of government and the assistant director to the treasurer.

The previous commission plan had called for no vouchers, but checks signed by the assistant director of finance and countersigned by the city manager. But objection had been raised that the finance director or auditor would have no record or check on what money was paid to whom. The new plan was decided upon as the best solution to this problem.

The commission also decided to submit to their drafting committee a plan wherein all the present municipal boards and commissions such as the health, civil service and city planning commissions would operate as they do now, and Council would have the power to establish new ones and revise the old ones as it saw fit. The city manager would be required to attend any such board meetings, though not have a vote.

The present set-up is for the boards to be appointed by the mayor. Continuation of this plan was agreed to and not considered incompatible with the city manager plan because the boards are legislative rather than executive in nature.

Runaways Stopped Here

Three teen-age Detroit boys hac their plans for a trip south interrupted by Marion police Monday.

The trio, 14, 15, and 16 years old, were taken into custody by city police about 9:30 a.m. yesterday as they walked south along N. Main St. with plans to "go south."

Questioned by police the three admitted they had run away from home in Detroit and authorities there were contacted. Held in the Marion County detention home overnight, the youths were to be returned home today by Detroit authorities.

Judge Waives Section Of Oath for New Citizen

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Japanese-born wife of a Seventh Day Adventist minister was permitted yesterday to take her oath of citizenship without the customary swearing to bear arms for her country.

Mrs Masu Sager of Takoma Park Md, told Chief Federal Judge William C Coleman she would promise to do noncombatant service but said her religion would not allow her to swear to bear arms

Under these conditions and after considerable questioning Judge Coleman allowed her to take the oath of allegiance with the phrase stricken out.

Polite Bandit Obtains $1,757 in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A man who said Please but carried a gun robbed the Barder Finance Co of $1 757

Miss Shirley Achor 23 company clerk who was on duty alone, said the man locked her in a back room yesterday after asking "Please walk to the rear of the office

Just before he fled, the bandit knocked on the back room door and said, "Miss, you can start yelling now"

Miss Achor did.

Longshoremen Wage War in New York City

NEW YORK (AP)—Hundreds of defiant independent longshoremen marched to Foley Square today to picket the federal courthouse in protest against a move to cite the old International Longshoremen's Assn for contempt of court

The contempt action was brought by the National Labor Relations Board which asked criminal and civil contempt citations against the association and three of its local officers

The board asked a fine of $100 000 if the union fails to end its week old blockade of waterfront truck movements in two days and an additional $25 000 for each day the tieup continues

The marchers began their demonstration at a Hudson River pier with about 100 men at the start Reinforcements joined them as they proceeded toward the court house, the number swelling to about 500

The marchers were orderly and there was no disturbance

Meantime all Manhattan piers remained idle in the strike which international officers of the ILA have termed a wildcat movement

Need Claimed For Political Reform in U.S.

DELAWARE Ohio (AP)—A Democratic national committeeman says election campaigns in his home state of Minnesota are emotional binges and here should be a reform of our American political party system

Speaking at a Democratic Recruitment Day here yesterday Committeeman Ben Gullen said it's the opinion of founders of the Minnesota Foundation for Political Education that our campaigns are biennial emotional binges that the congress are too often popularity contests and that real and important issues are obscured by the name calling and the techniques of the politicians and the press and radio commentators who leave the impression that the candidates are either good men or bad

Actually, far too many are mediocre Gullen added

The committeeman cited for benefit of political research materials and a program of training persons interested in political careers

He was one of several state and national Democratic leaders taking part in the program sponsored by Ohio Wesleyan University's Institute of Practical Politics

News of the District

Galion

The bride's three sisters were her attendants when Miss Nancy Lee Weaver became the bride of David Frederick Witter, in an open church service Sunday, March 7, at 2 p.m., in First Methodist Church here.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parry Weaver of Galion and Mr. Witter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry David Witter of Crestline.

The bride's sisters who attended her were Miss Ann Weaver, maid of honor, Miss Kaye Weaver, junior bridesmaid, and Miss Janice Weaver, flower girl. John Spearoff of Crestline, and Ronald Saum and Clarence Moyer, also of Crestline, were ushers.

The reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony.

After March 14 the couple will live for the present with the bridegroom's parents in Crestline.

The former Miss Weaver was graduated from Galion High School in 1953, and is employed as a cost clerk at the Hercules Steel Products Co. in Galion. Mr. Witter is a draftsman at the North Electric Manufacturing Co. in Galion. He was graduated from Crestline High School in 1952.

When Miss Marian L. Smith of this city exchanged marriage vows Sunday afternoon at Peace Lutheran Church here with John A. Hugel of Mansfield, she was wearing a gown of white satin. She was given in marriage by her father, C. E Smith of Mansfield, formerly of this city.

The double ring service was read at 2:30 p.m. by Rev. Philip E. Auer, pastor of the church, in a closed church service. Mrs. Charles Lufitz of New Washington, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Judy Harris, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Chris Geisel of Mansfield, friend of the bridegroom, was best man. Usher duties were performed by Charles Lufitz of New Washington, brother-in-law of the bride, and Robert Leppert of Mansfield, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

There were 100 guests present for the reception which was held at Hotel Talbott following the wedding. The couple went to New York City for a wedding trip.

After March 21, the couple will reside in Mansfield.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Florence Smith of Galion and C. E. Smith of Mansfield. She was graduated from Galion High School, and at the time of her marriage was employed at the H. F. Place Insurance Agency in Galion. Mr. Hugel's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hugel of Mansfield. He is associated with his father at the Midway Nite Club, Mansfield. He was graduated from Mansfield Senior High School, attended Ohio State University, and served four years with the U.S. Naval Hospital Corps.

St. Mary Falls to Williamsport in Overtime Thriller

Defending District Champs Down Irish in 58-57 Battle

By JOHN SHORT

A five-point spurt in an overtime period by Williamsport's Deers ended St Mary's basketball season last night at Capital University gym. The Irish netted two field goals, both by Roger Micheli and missed a pair of foul shots and as a result fell 58-57.

The win advanced the Pickaway County squad defending district champions, into the semi-finals of the District tourney. It will meet Lancaster St Marv Friday night in an effort to qualify for the finals Lancaster nailed down a semi-final berth with a 53-29 win over Elm Valley in last night's nightcap

Tight Battle

The hard-fought St Mary game was close from the opening whistle with neither team able to build up more than a four-point lead at any time During the final three minutes of the fourth quarter, the lead changed hands six times as one point separated the teams.

After dropping behind 9-6 at the middle of the initial stanza, the Irish came back to grab a 14-10 lead but Jim Mowery narrowed the margin to 15-13 near the end of the period Mike Anderson took the ball out of bounds and threw the length of the floor to Micheli in the final seconds Micheli grabbed the ball just as he was about to step out of bounds under his own goal and laid it into the hoop to boost the Irish lead to 17-13 as the period ended

Rebounding by Jack Picklesimer and Clyde Speakman began paying off for the Deers in the second stanza and although both squads were hit by an attack of erratic shooting, the winners knotted the score at 21-21 before Larry Ryan dropped in a free throw to give the Irish a 22-21 halftime margin Anderson and Jerry Ballenger each connected from the field for St Mary's only other scores during that period.

Irish Hold Lead

The local squad maintained its lead until with three minutes remaining, Picklesimer shot from the field to tie the score at 28-all and Ronnie James hit from the foul circle to give the Deers their first lead since the midway mark of the opening frame From that point, the lead changed hands four times before the quarter ended With 25 seconds to play Mowery scored on a drive-in and was fouled on the attempt He added the charity throw to give Williamsport a 38-37 edge at the three-quarter mark

Micheli drove in to drop through a two-pointer in the first 11 seconds of the last quarter and was fouled He added the attempt to give the Irish a 40-38 edge and the Deers lost the services of Jack Picklesimer From that point on no more than two points separated the teams

With a minute and eight seconds to go, Anderson gave the Irish a 51-50 edge but Marvin Rhoads boosted his mates ahead 52 51 with 31 seconds to go Anderson again shoved the Irish in front with a layup at the 16 - second mark only to have James dunk in one of two free throws with 11 seconds to go to tie the score at 53-53 as the final buzzer sounded

After 11 seconds of the overtime period, Anderson contacted his fifth personal and Mowery dropped in both shots for a two-point edge Micheli came back with a couple of bunny shots and the Irish were out font 57 - 55 with a minute and 55 seconds to go Bob Picklesimer left the game on his fifth personal at that time but both Irish shots missed Speakman narrowed the count to 57-56 with his only point of the game to set the stage for Marvin Rhoads' game-winning hook shot with 49 seconds showing on the clock

Clock Runs Out

The Irish managed to get the ball downcourt and were awarded it out of bounds under their own basket with eight seconds to play They failed however, to get back into play and the clock ran out

Both teams finished with 19 field goals but the Williamsport squad added 20 of 36 attempts from the free throw marker while St Mary hit on 19 of 33 attempts During the first two periods, the Irish connected on seven of 31 field attempts for an average of slightly under 23 per cent They bettered their marksmanship in the final two periods by connecting on 12 of 26 They finished the game with a 33 per cent average, hitting on 19 of 57

Micheli led the Irish attack with 22 points and was aided by Anderson with 21 Larry Ryan chipped in six Ballenger had five and Butch Merchant hit for three

Mowery and James hitting from the outside, topped the Deers with 15 points each Bob and Jack Picklesimer, a pair of cousins, netted 10 each

Seven seniors dressed for the Irish finale last night They include Anderson, Ryan, Merchant Jack O'Keeffe, Don Shoemaker, Jack McNamara and Pat O'Connor.

Francis Limited to 28 Points; Rio Wins Tourney Game 90-74

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Rio Grande's Bevo Francis played to a full house and the Arkansas Tech Wonder Boys performed before thousands of empty seats—but the Wonder Boys turned in the most impressive performance in opening play of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament

The marathon tournament with 32 of the nation's finest small college teams opened yesterday

Rio Grande of Ohio scored a 90-74 victory over Arizona State of Flagstaff But Bevo who came to the tournament with a season average of 50 4 for 23 games, was limited to a miserly 28 points He went out on fouls with 3 31 minutes remaining

It was Rio Grande's 20th victory against 4 losses

A capacity Municipal Auditorium crowd of 10 500—the biggest first night turnout in the history of NAIA tournaments—watched Rio Grande play. Then many of them left without waiting for the finale between Arkansas Tech and Mercer College of Georgia

And in that game Arkansas Tech's Wonder Boys broke the 100 mark for the ninth time this season They spanked Mercer 100 72

Goes to Toledo

Mansfield Crushes Shelby 55-42 for Sectional Crown

By GARY SAMS

Mansfield 17 5 earned a berth in the Toledo District Basketball Tournament this weekend when it spurted in the final quarter for a 55-42 victory over Shelby's Whippets in the finals of the Northwestern Class A Sectional on the Coliseum floor last night

Shelby which upset top-seeded Ashland Saturday night for a spot in the championship tilt, led all the way up to the close of the third period when Mansfield pushed ahead by a single point.

Take Lead

Then Mansfield after Shelby's Wincel Ingram hit on a jump shot from the key to slim the Tyger bulge to 39 38 shoved out front 48-38 with 3 57 remaining to put the tilt out of Shelby's grasp

Shelby had only eight shots at the basket during the final stanza to Mansfield's 17, with the Whippets connecting on but two fielders and the winners on eight.

Final shooting figures gave Mansfield 24 successful shots in 79 attempts, 27 of them coming in the second period and 19 in the third Shelby hit on 15 of 48 attempts from the floor

Prior to the final quarter Mansfield had led but once The Tygers overcame an early Shelby lead and went out front 7-6 but Shelby came back to jump ahead 13-7 at the beginning of the second period

The Whippets led by from one to seven points from that point until Mansfield came from a 31-26 deficit to knot the score at 32-32 at the 2 50 mark of the third quarter on Dave Jacoby's bucket from the key hole

Shelby's biggest lead was 28-21 early in the second half It took the lead two more times before Jack Nichols sank a long shot at quarters' end for a 37-36 Mansfield lead The Tygers never again trailed.

Ingram Sparks Mates

Ingram Shelby's pint - sized guard and playmaker was the whole show for the losers He paced the Shelby quintet throughout the first half with 17 points as he shot from behind screens set up by his teammates and wound up with 23 markers Wilne Mack Mansfield guard broke Shelby's back with his outside shooting He wound up with 20 points for the Tygers while Phil Tinker, 6-4 forward, added 13 Only other player to score heavily for Shelby in addition to Ingram was Don Buckman a 6-1 forward who pumped in 12 points

Ken Somerlot tournament manager, presented the trophies to Mansfield and Shelby at the conclusion of the contest

Harness Group Sets New Rule On Withdrawal

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The U S Trotting Assn, parent body of harness racing adopted a new rule yesterday to give relief to horsemen who heretofore have not been allowed to scratch their entries when they consider a wet track unsafe

The rule provides that when the weather is bad a committee made up of the presiding judge, a representative of the horsemen and an agent of the track will consider postponement. If all three decide it is safe to race, the program goes on If the vote is not unanimous a horseman may scratch his entry after posting 10 per cent of the purse. Later, USTA district boards will decide whether the money should be returned to the horseman or returned as a fine

The association, concluding its winter meetings, relected L B Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., to a four-year term as president Don R Millar of Columbus Ohio was renamed executive vice president for two years and all other officers were reelected for one year

Seeking Six Spots

Struggle for Playoff Berths Continues in IHL Campaign

CINCINNATI (AP)—The hectic International Hockey League race closes this week and only the first, eighth and ninth place teams are assured of their status.

The Cincinnati Mohawks are far ahead in the skating derby and eighth-place Louisville and cellar-dwelling Milwaukee are far behind.

But the other clubs will jockey with a dozen games until Sunday to see how they'll be matched in the six-team playoffs which start next week.

Cincinnati meets the league's runnerup in a best-of-7 series. Marion now holds the No. 2 spot, 1½ games ahead of Johnstown. The Johnstown-Marion battle Sunday could decide the issue. Marion has an added advantage of having 4 contests to play of its 64-game schedule compared with the Jets' 3.

The Jets are assured of at least a third place tie. They are 2 games ahead of Toledo, which has only 2 more to play. The Mercurys in turn are safely in front of fifth-place Fort Wayne, also with 2 games to go. But Grand Rapids with 2 tilts on tap, could close their 1 - game gap behind the Komets.

Troy, with 4 remaining and only 1 game out of sixth, could easily climb into the playoffs. Hockey fans in the IHL's 9 cities will not know for sure until after the last goal is slammed in.

Gillom Drops NFL Crown for Punting

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pat Brady, a second year man with the Pittsburgh Steelers, won the National Football League punting title booming the ball for an average of 46.9 yards per kick.

Official league statistics disclosed today the former Nevada and Butler quarterback, turned in the best punting average since Joe Muha averaged 47.2 yards in 1948 for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Horace Gillom of Cleveland who won the punting title in 1951 and 1952, finished second to Brady with a 43.8 average.

Junior Swimmers Notch Second Win; Nip Tiffin Mermen

Marion's YMCA junior swimming team brought its season record up to 2-1 when it administered the Tiffin Y juniors a second straight loss, 30½ to 26½, Saturday at the local Y pool.

Leading the Marion tank team were Greg Axe, who won the 50-yard breaststroke, Ernie Garee who came in first in the backstroke and Tom Prichard, 11-year-old freestyler who tied Tiffin's 14-year-old Mizen in the 50-yard free style event with a 36.8 performance.

Marion's other first came in the medley relay where Axe, Garee and Prichard combined to swim to an easy victory.

A postal meet between the YMCA prep team of boys 12 years old and under will be held Saturday at the local pool. Winning times will be entered in the Ohio-West Virginia area postal prep swimming championships.

Next outing for the junior and senior team will be the state YMCA championships at Ohio State University March 27. A number of local swimmers have already qualified for the meet while others will have two weeks in which to beat qualifying times.

Summary:

25-yard freestyle: Beisner (T); Rhodes (M); (tie) Castanien (M), Hartman (T). :14.0.

50-yard breaststroke: G. Axe (M); Krigbaum (M); Hartman (T). :45.6.

Bowling

Cora McCleary's 188-521 showed the way in the Monday Nights Ladies League at Palace Recreation. Dorothy Rhinehart hit 180-500 while Zoe DeMilt cracked 498, Marge Krausz 187-496, Lillie Dalton 481 and Connie Gibson 184. Team honors went to Crown Jewlers with 851 and Osborn Rest Home with 2473.

A 207 by C. Lucas and C. Samples' 571 were tops in the Marion Industries League at Marion Recreation. Tool Room No. 2 with 819-2355 paced the teams.

A new league high was set in the Nite Shift League when Hank Roberts toppled the pins for a 617. He had a 234 game and also a 206. Other high games included Ted Draper's 221, Paul Arndt's 215, Max Mullen's 216, Mike Ettore's 204 and Elzie Hutchinson's 203. Hub Bar & Grill hit 870-2454 for team laurels.

Mercantile League keglers were led by Bill McMahan's 246 and Al LaValley's 561. Team honors were copped by Sears with 882 and Lefflers with 2390.

Ray Reidenbaugh's 220 and Larry Larson's 547 led bowlers in the Utility League where four games of 200 or more were rolled. Team No. 7 with 829-2467 set the pace among the teams.

Palace League bowlers were led by J. Spires' 207 and B. Drumm's 585. Four games of 200 or better were rolled there. Palace Recreation with 950 and Studtees with 2727 led the teams.

A. Lloyd hit 200-501 to pace women keglers in the Palace Mixed Doubles League where men were led by Bob Disbennett's 216 and Ernie Owen's 614. Owen's high series came on games of 211, 211 and 192. A total of four games of 200 or better were recorded there. Team No. 6 with 692-1926 led the teams.

Tinkey Cleared

Mansfield Cager Ruled Eligible by OHSAA Head

A Mansfield cager who had a big hand in the Tyger defeat of Bucyrus in the sectional tournament here last Saturday, night, reportedly an ineligible player, has been ruled eligible by Commissioner H. W. Emswiler of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

Phil Tinkey, Mansfield's giant forward, reportedly had played with several Mansfield players in an independent game several weeks previously against a Mansfield FFA squad at Madison High School. But Emswiler ruled that since there were no regular officials and no scorebook on hand the game was of the disorganized type and would not make Tinkey ineligible for high school play.

Bucyrus Coach John Hutton first learned of the eligibility question though a telephone call fom an Ashland newspape Sunday and Bucydus High School Principal Franklin H. Laman called Emswiler Monday morning for an official verdict.

According to Emswiler, if Tinkey had been found ineligible, the entire sectional tournament would have to be played over instead of Bucyrus merely gaining the final round.

Morral Defeats Waldo To Cop Jr. High Crown

Morral downed Waldo 43-29 for the Marion County Junior High School title last night on the Caledonia floor. The win ended Morral's season at 15-3.

In the consolation game for third spot, Claridon edged Meeker 38-32.

Morral had reached the finals by whipping Prospect 37-24, Martel 32-19 and Meeker 46-28 while Waldo earned a spot in the championship tilt by downing New Bloomington, Caledonia and Claridon.

The winners trailed at the opening quarter 9-7 but came on in the final three periods to win going away. Morral led 22-17 at halftime and 34-21 at the three-quarter stop.

The win came as revenge for Morral as Waldo had copped the league title while the Wildcats finished in the runaer-up position.

Dick Craycraft paced the Morral offensive with 16 points while Warren Hensel added nine. Pickett was high for Waldo with 10 markers while Wade and S. Yake each added nine.

MORRAL 43

Craycraft 6-4-16; Moore 2-0-4; Johnston 2-1-5; Neal 1-4-6; Hensel 3-3-9; Wood 0-1-1; Noyes 1-0-2; Gregory 0-0-0; Rice 0-0-0; Haner 0-0-0.

Lopez Seeking Spots for Two Leading Hitters

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Al Lopez scratched his head today trying to find spots for two hitters on the Cleveland Indians' lineup.

One of them, rookie Rudy Regalado, may not be good enough to push slugger Al Rosen off third base. But the 23-year-old, hit 2 home runs, a double and a single yesterday as the Indians beat the Chicago Cubs, 15-9.

Of the other, Wally Westlake, who finished last season with a .300 average, Lopez says:

"I don't know what position, but (he) will play somewhere. In right field it'll be Westlake or Dave Philley. In center, it'll be Larry Doby, and in left, it'll be Westlake or Dale Mitchell."

With yesterday's performance, Regalado ran his batting average to .563 average for three exhibition games.

Rocky Nelson, Luke Easter and Bill Glynn seek the first base spot, so Lopez will have to do some experimenting, possibly trying out Rosen at first and putting the rookie on third.

Double Main Bout Booked at Armory

A double main event has been scheduled for the Thursday night wrestling card at the armory, Promoter Les Fishbaugh announced today.

Highlighting the card will be a two out of three falls battle between Mars Bennett and China Myra for a 60-minute time limit. Mars Bennet appeared here last week and walked off with a win. Miss China, a cuban, will be making her first Marion appearance.

The Bowery Boys, Jack and Hurley, will meet Black Panther and Ricky Waldo in a tag team match for two out of three falls.

In the 30-minute, one-fall opener, George Macricostas will be matched against Jim Lewis.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

George Keel, former member of the Harding coaching staff, returned to his home town of Kenton this year and right now would have an awfully rough time getting away.

SHORT

Keel sold his home town friends and critics when he guided his Wildcat gridders to their best record since the 1948 undefeated season.

The basket ball team also notched its best mark in several seasons despite the fact it finished on the short end of an 8-9 count for regular season play. However, Keel worked his charges into a rugged upset-minded crew for tournament play at Bluffton and pulled two of the major upsets in state competition to date.

The 'Cats drew Findlay for their opening tourney foe and were picked to be whipped by as much as 20 points. A pair of foul shots by Virgil Deardorff and Bob Conkle, however, shattered that prediction in the final 48 seconds and Kenton eliminated the powerful Trojans 60-58. J. R. Hickel dumped in 19 points for Keel while Deardorff added 15.

Two nights later the Kenton squad was pitted against Lima South and was given about the same chance as a snowball in a July heat wave. But the Wildcats did it again. Sparked by Jim Hogan's 18 and Hickel's 13, the Cats rolled to a 50-43 win and a spot in the tournament finals. Saturday night they finally bowed 63-53 but only after giving Lima Central's Dragons their toughest fight of the season.

It marked the first time since 1935 a Kenton High School squad had qualified for the sectional championship game. And one of the scrappiest members of that 1935 squad was the same George Keel now serving as coach of the Wildcats. George was a sophomore at the time.

Kentucky Tops Ballot; Indiana Placed Second

NEW YORK (AP)—Unbeaten Kentucky entered its Southeastern Conference playoff with eighth ranked Louisiana State today as the No. 1 college basketball power in the nation.

The Wildcats, favored to defeat the Tigers for an NCAA tournament berth, were the first choice of 45 of the 95 sports writers and sportscasters in the weekly Associated Press poll. It marked the ninth time in the past 13 weeks Kentucky has headed the list.

Indiana's defending NCAA champions remained in second position, receiving 11 first place ballots and 668 points. Kentucky polled 788 points.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

20 Years Afterward

Ethel Merman's appearances on television, apart from a spectacular one on the Ford anniversary show, have been fairly disastrous.

J. CROSBY

She was on the Colgate Comedy Hour with Jimmy Durante a while back and, while she belted out some wonderful songs with the clamorous assurance of a gong, she was imbedded the rest of the time in some awfully tired and strained comedy routines.

In one number she was a harpist who wrecked a symphony orchestra's rendition of "The Blue Danube;" in another, she and Durante engaged in some rehearsal monkey shines. Both were not only pretty bad but woefully wrong for Miss Merman's special talents.

HER LAST APPEARANCE on Colgate was in "Anything Goes" in which Miss Merman starred on Broadway way back in 1934. It was originally a superb musical with an hilarious book by Russel Crouse and Howard Lindsay and one of Cole Porter's most captivating scores.

Well, on the Comedy Hour the score came out all right but somewhere the book got lost in the cutting room. I guess the producers, who included Leland Hayward, figured that Miss Merman had been a howling success just singing songs on the Ford show and they'd better keep her doing just that.

She sang a lot of songs, sometimes by herself and sometimes teamed with Frank Sinatra, including a couple of Cole Porter tunes that came out of other shows. I can listen to Cole Porter tunes all day but I don't know that this tampering with the fundamental balance between music and book was a very good idea.

Bert Lahr, playing the old Victor Moore role as Public Enemy No. 13, was robbed of most of the great lines which made the original part so endearing, and even Miss Merman's original comedy role was drastically foreshortened.

THIS ISN'T THE FIRST time "Anything Goes" has been on television. Some years back Martin Raye was featured in a production that was as funny as it was tuneful and I'm afraid I greatly preferred it to this one.

This production, though, was an eye-filling and elaborate one and was beautifully lit. There were several gay and impudent chorus numbers with the girls dressed in sort of parodies of the dresses of the '20s. The chorines were a collection of real beauties and were perhaps a trifle too beautiful.

After all, Miss Merman, alas, is 20 years older than she was when she first performed this role. She shouldn't be subjected to such competition.

Also there's a question in my mind about casting Frank Sinatra opposite her. Mr. Sinatra looked about 30 and Miss Merman didn't. A flaming love affair between them seemed — well — improbable.

Mr. Sinatra, incidentally, was very bright, fresh and pert as a comedian. And his voice, which a couple of years ago seemed on the verge of expiring, was almost as good as ever, especially singing one of the loveliest of Cole Porter tunes, "All Through the Night."

AT ANY RATE, there ought to be some hard thinking around NBC before Miss Merman is pitched into anything else. After all, the great lady in all her long service on the stage was never in anything but hits, and it seems a shame to spoil that record now.

Capsule Mysteries has sent a very helpful breakdown of the methods of murder employed on its 39-week series of five-minute mysteries. Twelve of the murderees die by guns, six by knives, three by poisons, four by strangling, two by drowning, one by hanging, two by gas poisoning, two by hit-and-run cars, two by being pushed off high places, three by beatings, one by electrocution and one by a weight dropped on his head.

Seems, on the whole, a very

REV. CARLO PIETROPAULO
Musician for Services

Religious Services Resume Tonight at Emmanuel Church

Opening service of an evangelistic campaign at Emmanuel Baptist Church, Sunday night, was attended by a capacity crowd, the pastor-evangelist, Rev. C. E. Hershey reported. Featured musician for the meetings is Rev. Carlo Pietropaulo of Huntington, W. Va., shown above with his trombone.

Besides vocal and trombone selections by the guest worker, other music at the service was an accordion duet by Rev. Hershey and his daughter, Nancy Jane. Howard Shumate played accordion and guitar numbers. Mrs. Helen Kirby was organist and Miss Mildred Morris and Mrs. Opal Milar, pianists.

Tonight, Rev. Pietropaulo will be in charge of the song service and present special numbers. Rev. and Mrs. John Williams of LaRue will present a vocal duet. "The Unpardonable Sin" will be the title of the message which Rev. Hershey will give.

On Wednesday night the girls' trio of the church will sing, directed by Mrs. Mae Sanderson. On Thursday the special vocal selections will be by Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Ellis of Richwood. The Men's Chorus of the church will sing. Rev. Pietropaulo is a musical evangelist. He will teach several new choruses during the campaign. He is formerly from Altoona, Pa. and from the home church of Rev. Hershey, Calvary Baptist Church, of that city.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP) — There was a slight sag today in the stock market.

It didn't go very far—around a point at the outside. At the same time there were a few quite good plus signs.

The market was steady at the opening, narrowly mixed in the forenoon, and slightly lower in early afternoon.

Lower were Chesapeake & Ohio, Amerada Petroleum, Allied Chemical, General Eelectric, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, and Radio Corp.

Higher were Gulf, Oil, Homestake Mining, American Tobacco, Douglas Aircraft, and United Aircraft.

Herding Ability Of Sheepdogs Under Dispute

CHICAGO (UP)—Sheepdogs may not make the best sheep herders according to a University of Chicago scientist.

Benson E Ginsburg associate professor of natural sciences, has been experimenting to determine whether dogs which are supposed to inherit special characteristics for watching, herding or hunting actually possess such qualities

Ginsburg used more than 100 dogs of 13 breeds at the Jackson Laboratory in Bar Harbor, Me., to test their herding ability with two female goats, each with a kid, in a large field

Each dog was given five trials Ginsburg said that in each case the reaction of the dog was the same on each trial

Surprisingly he said nine wire haired terriers not only attempted to herd the goats but were aggressive toward them

But 13 Shetland sheepdogs supposedly bred for their innate herding abilities didn't demonstrate any special skill for the work In fact he said several showed fear of the goats A few of the sheepdogs had the gumption at least to bark at them, but some were completely indifferent

A sheepdog that had a reputation as a skilled herder of chickens was among those that showed fear of the goats

The best herders of all Ginsburg said, turned out to be a great Pyrenees and a springer spaniel

Some basenjis, the so - called "barkless" 'dogs from the African Congo, stalked the goats until the latter turned toward them Then they ran away tails between their legs Others simply let it be known they didn't want to get near the goats

If several basenjis were sent into the field together they suddenly began hunting in a pack trying to cut the smallest kid out of the herd

Besides his professional interest in canine behavior, Ginsburg is trying as a hobby to develop a hunting variety of airedale to use against big game He wants them to be gentle toward people but with the instinct to attack game

An inspirational writer tells us how to build up confidence in ourself which sounds sort of a waste of time considering how misplaced it would seem.

Rep. Hand Says Atomic Plant In Wrong Place

Feels Kentucky Site Near Coal Would Have Saved Millions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hand (R-NJ) says the government might have saved millions by building an atomic energy plant on the Green River in Kentucky instead of near Portsmouth, Ohio.

Hand says the Portsmouth plant is 200 miles from an undeveloped coal field in Kentucky.

Now the AEC is urging Congress to appropriate $14,399,000 to deepen and improve the Green River so this coal may be hauled to the Portsmouth plant. Of the total, $5,400,000 is sought for the next fiscal year. In addition, $800,000 is being asked in a supplementary budget to get the work started before July 1.

The congressman expressed his view at a closed-door hearing of the House Appropriations Subcommittee. The hearing record was made public yesterday.

Hand commented:

"It would be very interesting to hear from the Atomic Energy Commission as to what led them to believe the location of Portsmouth was better and then later think about this undeveloped coal field on the Green River."

Brig. Gen. C. H. Chorpening of the Army Engineers replied he did not know just what the AEC had in mind in selecting Portsmouth.

However, he said he doubted there would be sufficient water in the Green River for the plant.

"It involves a matter of the requirements for land," he continued, "and many other factors which must be given consideration in selecting where you will build those plants."

The Green River project involves not only deepening the river but replacing dams and Locks 1 and 2 at Stottsville and Rumsey, Ky.

In a letter inserted in the hearing record, AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss estimated the commission would save more than 8½ million dollars over a 15-year period if Congress consents to the canalization project.

The Ohio Valley Electric Corp., power supplier for the Portsmouth plant, has contracts for about 1,780,000 tons of western Kentucky coal a year—providing the river project is started soon.

League To Discuss City Government

The topic for discussion of the League of Women Voters' two unit meetings Wednesday in the YMCA is Marion's municipal government. Marion's city officials have been invited to assist with the discussion. Among those who expect to attend are Mayor Harold Robinson, and Councilmen Herold Fralich, Robert Lister, Herman Rinehart and Ralph Williams.

The morning meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. and the evening group will meet at 8 p.m. Discussion and unit leaders are Mrs. Francis Wanda, Mrs. J. W. Fretz, Mrs. Walter Sinden and Mrs. William Diem.

The public is invited to join with the League in making this study.

The resource committee headed by Mrs. J. E. Frew has prepared a series of questions which were brought out in previous discussions of this subject.

Taft-Hartley Amendment Vetoed by House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Labor Committee Monday rejected 18-6 an effort to work union shop provisions out of the Taft-Hartley act.

Chairman McConnell (R-Pa) disclosed the action, taken at a closed-door meeting. He said the amendment was offered by Rep. Wint Smith (R-Kan).

The proposal, he said, would have had the effect of making illegal contracts calling for union shops and maintenance of membership.

QUITS ARMY OVER GUNS. Warrant Officer Loren C. Cook, U. S. Army ordnance officer, announced his resignation from the service because of a squabble over weapons he developed. Here he demonstrates his automatic rifle at Mannheim, Germany, shortly before his recent departure for the United States. Cook, from Vallejo, Calif., "Pentagon politics and snafu" blocked adoption of the automatic rifle and a light machine gun he designed and developed.

Use of Color in Ads Explained To Club Here by Fashion Critic

"No one ad can appeal to all," commented Suzanne Caygill, nationally-known color analyst, fashion critic and ad critic, at the Monday noon luncheon meeting of the Marion Sales-Ad Club.

Miss Caygill addressed members of the club, their guests, members of the Business and Professional Women's Club and the city's Secretaries Association, who were invited to sit in on the special session at the YMCA. Ninety-one persons attended.

Psychological Approach

Miss Caygill emphasized the fact that an ad many times appeals to one person while it does not to another. The effect of any ad upon a reader is based upon its psychological approach, she added, and color has a great deal to do with that effect. "Color is the thermometer of taste," she pointed out.

The speaker, who came to Marion from Cincinnati where she had been conducting a fashion and color clinic last week, reminded her audience that most of the U. S. consumers are women. She suggested that an affirmative approach rather than a negtive one be used in appealing to Mrs. Consumer, since the American woman seeks self-assurance rather than fear and criticism.

She added that the advertisement must represent a woman to herself according to the way she wants to look or live. She said that color can bring that identification in one quick stroke.

Respond to Color

She pointed out that each woman responds to one particular range of color combinations and recognizes it as her own. She listed four classifications of individual color tastes.

She suggested staggering ads with the different color taste classifications or including all the classes in one ad as a solution to the problem of attracting more consumer eyes.

The speaker was introduced by John Plank, program chairman, and Gordon Brunn, second vice president, presided.

Following her talk here, Miss Caygill was scheduled to return to the West Coast.

Miss Caygill has traveled more than 10,000 miles annually for the past six years, speaking to clubs, at universitites and to other organizations, as well as conducting fashion and color clinics for department stores across the country.

DRUGGIST DIES

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Charles R. Roth, 80, president in 1921 of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Assn. He and his cousin, the late Casmir K. Hug, had operated a chain of eight drug stores here. He died yesterday.

Recent tests indicate that children with impaired hearing are more apt to become juvenile delinquents than normal children.

Mrs. Mary Ames Elected Head of Marion Shrine 15

Mrs. Mary R. Ames was elected worthy high priestess and her husband, Winthrop P. Ames, was named watchman of sheperds of Marion Shrine No. 15, White Shrine of Jerusalem, when election of officers for the new year was held at the Shrine meeting Monday night in the Masonic Temple.

They succeed Mrs. Minnie Baughman and James Ralston.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Zoa Hill, noble prophetess; Francis C. Smith, associate watchman of shepherds; Mrs. Anna Heiser, worthy scribe; Mrs. Ruby Blake, worthy treasurer; Mrs. Sylvia Spiggle, worthy chaplain; Mrs. Lulu Spain, worthy shepherdess; Mrs. Emily Smith, worthy guide; Mrs. Evelyn Stone, trustee for three years.

Mrs. Heiser has served as scribe of the Shrine for 14 years.

The new officers will be installed April 12.

Annual reports were given by various committee chairman. Announcements were made of a meeting of the Sewing Circle to be held Wednesday at the Temple, with a potluck dinner at noon, and a meeting of the Past High Priestess Association Friday at the Temple.

At he next meeting, candidates for the past year will be honored, the patrol will present its drill, and a program has been planned by Mrs. Eve Hunter and Mrs. Goldie Swope.

Where Crime Occurred Still Mystery to Police

FITCHBURG, Mass. (AP)—Police have solved a crime involving theft of $100 but they don't know where it happened.

A fugitive from Shirley Industrial School—a detention home for boys—was returned here yesterday on a charge of taking a car without authority.

Police said he told them of breaking into a gas station last Tuesday and stealing $100 from the cash register.

But he couldn't tell where the gas station was other than "within a day's walking distance from Fitchburg."

No nearby police department has any record of the theft.

SUEZ CANAL BUSY

An average of 33 ships pass through the Suez Canal daily. A typical cargo ship pays a toll of $5,800 for passing through the canal. But it saves a voyage around the Cape of Good Hope that would cost about $28,000.

Vitamin-Fed Italian Dog Hit by Car, Killed at 21

GROSSETO, Italy (AP) — Italy's oldest dog, 21-year-old Birillo (it's Italian for Skittles) died yesterday but it took an automobile to kill him.

The old veteran, whose picture appeared in many newspapers last year when he passed 20, wandered into the street and into the path of a car.

Cameramen who photographed him last year asked what kind of a dog he was and what was his secret of longevity.

To the first question, his owner replied: "Well, mostly just mixed dog."

To the second: "I feed him vitamins."

Price of Butter, Milk To Drop, Specialists Say

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The retail price of butter will drop 8 cents a pound and milk will drop 1 cent a quart after a change in dairy price supports becomes effective April 1, two Ohio state dairy marketing specialists said today.

Robert Pelley and Elmer Baumer said the new support program will reduce farm milk prices 40 to 60 cents per 100 pounds.

They based the estimated change in farm milk price on formulas used by eight principal Ohio milk markets.

Other predictions of Pelley and Baumer:

Dairymen selling milk for cheese, butter, dry-milk powder or evaporated milk can expect a drop of 60 cents per hundred weight.

Farm prices of milk sold for bottling will drop 40 to 50 cents per 100 pounds for 3.5 per cent butter fat milk.

Hospital Board Receives Bids On Furnishings

Chairs, Dressers, Beds, Tables Among Equipment Offered

Sealed bids for a portion of the furnishings and equipment for Marion General Hospital were publicly opened Monday noon at city hall.

Largest bids were for patient rooms furnishings, including beds, chairs, dressers, foot stools, and flower tables. Three of four bids on these items were in the $38,000 bracket while a fourth, which did not include all items listed in the specifications, was in the $29,500 bracket.

Other items bid on were operating tables and an accounting machine.

One company, the American Sterilizer Co. of Erie, Pa., submitted a base bid of $3,780 for two operating tables plus $332 for accessories.

Machine Bids

Three companies submitted bids on the accounting machine for use in the hospital bookkeeping department. Lowest bid received was from the Burroughs Manufacturing Co. of Detroit with a base bid of $4,140. Alternate bids for smaller machines than the one specified were $3,991, $3,352 and $4,027.

Next lowest bid was from the National Cash Register Co. which submitted a bid of $4,155 with no alternates.

Highest bid for the type machine specified was $4,487 submitted by the Remington-Rand Co. of Columbus. This bid also listed a number of accessories for the machine which raised an alternate bid to $5,001. The other two bidders did not offer prices for accessories for their machines.

Bids on the patient rooms furnishings were from the A. S. Aloe Co. of St. Louis, Mo., F. O. Schoedinger Co., of Columbus, Foreman Wayside Furniture Co. of Marion, American Hospital Supply Corp. of Evanston, Ill., and Columbus Hospital Supply Co., of Columbus.

Two Give Totals

Only two of these bidders gave totals for their bids on all types of patient room furnishings listed in the specifications prepared by the hospital board of building commissioners.

The Aloe Co. listed a total of $37,978 and the Schoedinger Co. of Columbus listed a total of $37,130. Actually Schoedinger's bid was $37,195 but a $65 error in tabulations was discovered and corrected by a representative attending the bid opening.

The remaining three bidders did not list a total and because of alternates listed and lack of bid on some items, exact totals were not immediately available.

Approximate base bids as submitted by these three firms were: Wayside Furniture Co., $29,556 with no bids submitted on 11 of a total of about 30 different items specified; American Hospital Supply Co. $38,500 with an alternate total about $38,790; and Columbus Hospital Supply Co., $38,530 with alternate total of some $38,610.

Bids to be Tabulated

E. L. Mitchell, secretary of the building commissioners, announced the bids would be tabulated and all bidders notified of the findings as quickly as possible. He said the board of commissioners may meet later this week to award the contract.

Under Ohio law, the contract must go to the lowest and best bidder who is able to meet all specifications established by the board.

Mitchell said that bids on office equipment, and X-ray machine, dental clinic equipment, refinishing of usable furnishings in the present City Hospital and numerous other types of equipment must still be made to furnish the hospital completely.

Opening of bids for office equipment and the X-ray machine is scheduled for March 31, he said.

Attending the bid opening Monday were Miss Irene Tinklepaugh, city hospital administrator; H. L. Dowler, building commissioners board member, Harvey T. Gracely, board member; Floyd Schaffner, assistant city auditor, and John Sappington, clerk for the hospital commissioners.

Jeff Chandler, Film Star, Faces Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jeff Chandler, the movie he-man, has been sued for divorce on charges of cruelty by his wife of eight years.

Mrs. Chandler, a former actress known professionally as Marjorie Hoshelle, did not give details of her accusations in her suit filed in Superior Court yesterday.

The couple separated last June 30 after a series of estrangements and reconciliations. Under a property settlement the actor's wife is to receive alimony of $2,340 a month for six months; $2,166.67 for the next six months and then $1,166.67 until she dies or remarries.

The agreement also provides that Chandler is to pay $500 a month for support of their children, Jamie, 6, and Dana, 4, and that Mrs. Chandler is to have their custody.

VICTIM OF PRANKSTER

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Sol M. Burg, who with her husband owns a infant apparel store in suburban Maple Heights, had a lot of unordered merchandise on hand today because of a prankster. She also said undertakers, florists, appliance stores, candy shops, paint stores and lumber yards had telephoned after being falsely informed she as interested in their wares or services.

Grounded British Comet Jet Liners Face Final Tests

LONDON (AP)—Britain's grounded Comet jet airliners will take to the air again March 23 if final test flights prove satisfactory, Civil Aviation Minister Alan Lennox-Boyd told the House of Commons Monday.

The government-owned British Overseas Airways Corp. Grounded all seven of its 500-mile-an-hour comets last Jan. 11 after three fatal crashes in 10 months. Aircraft engineers made more than 20 modifications in the plane after examination.

Salvage crews are still probing the waters off the Mediterranean Island of Elba for pieces of wreckage from the last-crashed Comet which carried 35 persons to their deaths Jan. 10. Results of inquiries into the tragedy have not yet been announced.

Supreme Court Declines To Rule on Alien's Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday refused to rule on whether a resident alien who goes to an outlying American possession may be barred from returning to the continental United States.

At issue is a basic point of controvery in pending deportation proceedings against singer Dick Haymes, husband of actress Rita Hayworth.

The court's refusal Monday to rule on the point leaves it open to be raised if the case of Haymes, or some similar case, should reach the high tribunal.

Truman Says He'll Back Adlai if He's Candidate in 1956

BOSTON (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said Monday he hopes Adlai Stevenson again will be the Democratic candidate for president and that he will campaign for him if Stevenson wants him to.

Truman made the remark at a news conference which preceded a luncheon in connection with a program to raise funds for a Truman library.

The former president said he wants to keep the Democratic party alive and he praised Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) as a "great senator," adding that "we need a lot of people like him."

Kennedy is Massachusetts' chairman of the Truman Library Fund.

Asked if he thought there was need for legislation to oust Communists, Truman said there was only "an eyeful of Communists in the whole country and I'm not afraid of them."

Dayton Engineer Takes Rugged Test

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—For 56 hours last week Charles A. Dempsey, 29, a civilian industrial engineer at Wright Air Development Center, sat in a jet fighter cockpit and listened to a loud noise simulating the sound of a jet in flight.

This was a part of human endurance tests which WADC engineers hope will provide clues to equipment improvement for pilot comfort and efficiency. The noise was injected to test stress effects of flight noises.

For the entire 56 hours Dempsey wore a complete pilot's outfit, from oxygen mask and exposure suit to long underwear.

Around Council's Table

Marion City Council adopted eight pieces of legislation, turned another down, sent one back to committee for further study and discussed other business in its meeting Monday night at city hall.

Traffic Light Control

Two pieces of legislation authorizing the purchase and installation of new automatic traffic light control devices were unanimously approved.

One ordinance authorized the safety-service director to sign contracts for the purchase and installation of the automatic control devices. The other authorized expenditure of funds for the project.

Terms of the contracts are that the control devices are to be supplied by the Buckeye Telephone and Supply Co. of Columbus at a cost of $2,677 and are to be installed by Lawrence Morse of Marion at a labor fee of $1,687 for a total cost of $4,364. They were low bidders on the project.

The appropriations ordinance approved provided a sum of $3,200 for puchase of traffic light supplies and $1,800 for traffic light labor for a total of $5,000.

Mayor Harold F. Robinson explained the higher appropriation was asked to cover unforeseen costs which might arise when the actual installation gets underway.

On request of Councilman - at - Large Warren Diehl, Mayor Robinson presented the bids to Council for their inspection. After a brief discussion during which the various bids were explained, Council voted to approve the signing of contracts.

Other Traffic Plan

Mayor Robinson reported that he has plans to install pedestrian traffic lights at the Center and Main St. intersection. These would be the type that instruct pedestrians to "Walk" or "Don't Walk" and would be synchronized with the traffic light, he explained.

In other action concerning traffic controls, Council unanimously approved a resolution authorizing installation of either a traffic light or a flasher light at Pearl and W. Columbia Sts.

Mayor Robinson again took the floor to explain the city has a flasher light previously used at another intersection. He said it was felt best to try use of a four-way red flasher light first and if that is not satisfactory to install a traffic light. The intersection is presently marked a four-way stop street.

Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance reported that to his knowledge the four-way stop street plan has worked fine and that he felt the flasher light would add to its effectiveness. He said he would be in favor of eventual installation of a traffic light at the corner. Council approved making the intersection a four-way stop last fall. The move was made for the protection of school children walking to and from Pearl St. school.

Ordinance Defeated

An ordinance which would have provided new rules for the operation of the Veteran's Housing Project on W. Fairground St. was defeated by a seven to two vote after considerable discussion.

Proposed by the lands and buildings committee under the chairmanship of Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward, the ordinance called for eviction of any tenant at the housing project who failed to pay his rent within three days after the due date.

It also would have given the manager of the project the authority to sign all notices and legal documents in eviction actions.

It prohibited rental of any unit in the project to childless couples, and limited all residents to a tenancy of no more than two years.

Fralich said the ordinance was drawn with these provisions after the manager of the project had requested some penalty for tenants failing to pay rents on due dates.

In their investigation, the committee decided the purpose of the project was to provide temporary low-rent housing for returning veterans and their families and for this reason the two-year tenancy limitation was included, Fralich said.

Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance objected to this provision and First Ward Councilman Harold Smith objected to the provision limiting tenancy only to those families with children.

Fralich explained that these provisions had been included in an effort to return the project to its purpose—that of temporary low-rent housing for veterans.

Only Fralich and Lister voted for the ordinance while Smith, Rinehart, Jenkins, Williams, Quaintance, Diehl and Haldeman voted against it.

Deputy Clerk Sought

An ordinance to authorize employment of an assistant deputy clerk for Municipal Court was sent back to committee after lengthy discussion and two roll-call votes.

Lister said the ordinance was brought in because of the need for additional help in the clerk's office. He said court records show cases have tripled since 1941 and there has been only one additional employe authorized. This was in 1951 after the court gained county-wide jurisdiction and a deputy bailiff was employed, he added.

Brought before Council as emergency legislation, the proposal had not previously been presented to the finance committee for study. Don Quaintance, chairman of the finance committee, objected to passage of the ordinance until such time as it could be studied further. He said all requests for additional help made by other city departments were studied by a committee of Council prior to passage and the same policy should be followed in this instance.

City Solicitor George Piacentino said it was his understanding the need for the additional employe was urgent. He said a woman had been hired on a temporary basis and was being paid from a small cash fund of the court.

A roll-call vote was then taken on adoption. Quaintance, Fralich and Diehl abstained from voting and Haldeman was unable to decide whether to vote for or against the measure. A short discussion followed during which Williams withdrew his vote for it and abstained from voting further. Haldeman then voted in favor of the measure. This action gave the ordinance five yes votes and four abstaining.

Council President William Slack declared the ordinance lost as emergency legislation and Haldeman moved it be sent to the finance committee for further study and returned to Council for further action at its next meeting. A roll-call vote was taken on the motion and it was adopted by a 5-4 vote.

Ordinance Adopted

An ordinance authorizing the safety service director to sign a contract with Marion industries, division of Motor Products Corp. for treatment of industrial wastes emptied into city sewer lines was unanimously adopted.

The ordinance calls for a one-year contract with a charge of 16 cents for each 1,000 gallons treated and to include "other terms and conditions" which will best serve the interests of the city.

Mayor Robinson said the "other terms and conditions" should include some type of control of the type wastes the plant may dump into the sewers. Safety - Service Director Ralph Forrest said the latest report of analysis of wastes from the plant showed a high percentage of acid used in the chrome plating process. He said this was harmful to the sewage treatment plant and something should be done to stop the emptying of this and similar materials into sewer lines from any plant in the city. Mayor Robinson affirmed this statement.

Councilman Smith then suggested an ordinance which would cover all such instances and could be applied to any industrial plant located in or near the city which have connections to city sewer lines. Council then instructed Piacentino to prepare such a regulatory ordinance and present it to Council for approval at its next meeting.

Damage Claims Okayed

Ordinances for payment of three damage claims against the city totaling some $700 were passed unanimously following a five-minute recessed meeting called by Finance Committee Chairman Don Quaintance.

Largest of the claims paid was $627 to Mrs. Mildren M. Sheppard of 554 Thompson St. The payment was for medical expenses and expenses of repairing her car as a result of an accident Jan. 11 with a city-owned Jeep. The city vehicle was driven by Lawrence D. Hopkins, 38, of 468 Park St. It and the car driven by Mrs. Sheppard collided at Oak and Owens Sts. and she was sent to city hospital with possible internal injuries.

Another claim for $51.82 was authorized for payment to Jack Smart whose car was damaged when struck by a city garbage truck on Feb. 3 while it was parked on Bellefontaine Ave. near Olney Ave. The truck was driven by Howard Millisor.

Other claim paid was $20 to Gerald Boltinghouse for damage to a tire on his automobile when it struck a hole in the street caused by a washout of a city excavation made to repair a sewer. The accident occurred at Spencer and Center Sts. Feb. 18.

Water Mains Okayed

Only other ordinance adopted was one authorizing the Marion Water Co. to install water mains and fire hydrants on Franconia, True, Uhler and Mandanna Aves., Minnehaha St., Brentwood Dr., and Curtis Ct.

Legislation was also ordered brought in on petition of abutting property owners for vacating of an alley in the vicinity of Cherry and Windsor Sts.

Other Activities

In other action, a letter from the League of Women Voters was read to Council. The letter stated the league is making a study of forms of city government and would like a first hand report from city officials and councilmen on Marion's present city government The letter further extended an invitation to city officials and Councilmen to attend one of two league meetings at the YMCA Monday at 9:30 a.m. or at 8 p.m.

Councilman Quaintance also brought up the problem of parking around the Marion County Courthouse. He asked if there were any way city police could be assigned to patrol the area on the north and east sides of the courthouse and ticket unauthorized cars parked there. Forrest said the parking areas are on county property, city police have no authority to ticket cars parked there.

Council also decided to bring in a resolution at its next meeting commending City Engineer Thomas Cathers, and his assistants John V. Ruth and Thomas Taylor for their efforts in preparing a new city sewer map. First of its kind in the city, the map was prepared over a period of some three months and was presented to Council for its inspection during the meeting. Council had asked for such a map two years ago but other more urgent work in the engineering department prevented its preparation.

All Councilmen were present for the meeting.

District Lions Convention Will Open Here Saturday

Robert Scott of Marion, district governor of Lions District 13-E, will be the presiding officers for various sessions when the annual district convention is held in Marion Saturday and Sunday.

Lion members from throughout the district, many accompanied by their wives, will begin to assemble Saturday afternoon and headquarters will be established at Hotel Harding.

REGISTRATION is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. Saturday and continue throughout the evening both at the hotel and at the Marion Country Club.

For Lions and their wives on Saturday night, a reception and governor's ball will be held at the Country Club with music for dancing by Neis Blocker and his orchestra.

Sunday's program outline will feature the business session in the ballroom at Hotel Harding, during which time there will be a tea in the Plantation Room for the women, and the district banquet in the evening at the YMCA. Speaker will be Dr. Dan Martin, director of Lions International.

DURING HIS TERM as district governor, Scott has been responsible for starting seven new clubs in the district. When he began his term of office, there were 37 clubs in the district with about 1,900 members. At the present time the clubs number 144 with a total membership of about 2,100.

The district governors and most of the senior deputy governors from the other seven sub-districts in the state are expected to be in Marion for the convention.

Three Indicted For Contempt To Stand Trial

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three Ohioans indicted for contempt of the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission will face trial March 16 in Franklin County Common Pleas Court, the county prosecutor's office said Monday.

The three are Harry McGill and Vassell Thanel of Dayton and Mrs. Melvin Hupman of Clarksville. They are among 14 persons who refused to answer commission questions on whether or not they engaged in Communist activities.

Melvin Hupman also was among those indicted here. On Jan. 15 a Federal District Court jury in Cincinnati found him guilty of swearing falsely to a non-Communist affidavit as an officer of a Dayton local of the Independent Electrical Workers' Union. He was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000. He's now out on bond pending an appeal.

Rules on Evidence

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled Monday testimony given before the Senate Crime Investigating Committee may not be used in criminal prosecutions in state courts. Justice Black delivered the unanimous decision.

Few Takers Found For Wheat Surplus, Europe Has Plenty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson is finding it difficult to sell surplus wheat abroad even at cut-rate prices.

Three months ago the secretary sought to stimulate lagging export sales by offering government-owned supplies at reduced prices to markets not covered by an international wheat agreement.

But takers on this offer have been relatively few. The volume shipped abroad under it has been running at less than a million bushels a month from a government-owned surplus of about 350 million bushels.

World wheat supplies are at record levels this year.

COUNCIL OVERRIDES MAYOR

CLEVELAND (AP)—City Councilmen overrode Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze's veto last night and boosted the pay of police and firemen by five per cent. Other city employes had been given three per cent increases and the mayor said that was all the city could afford.

Letter 30 Years Late

DENVER (AP)—Back in 1923, Miss Annie May Straub, a Denver schoolteacher, planned to take some college courses. She wrote to North Attleboro, Mass., for her grades as a student at the turn of the century.

The high school finally got the letter last week, the Denver Post learned yesterday.

Meanwhile, Miss Straub, retired from teaching in 1944, had died in Los Angeles Jan. 6.

CARROLL'S
IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Recently, Speaker of the House Martin announced that he is in favor of reducing the Federal excise tax on jewelry. This reduction will probably be to the former 10%. Although final action is not expected to take place for some time, Carroll's Jewelry Store is anticipating this savings to you. Effective now, the purchase price on all Carroll's precious gems, jewelry, watches and other items will be reduced so that in effect this anticipated tax reduction is available to you now — except for those several fair traded items in our stock.

Code of Fair Play Unlikely

Senate Republicans Cool On Regulation of Probes

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Eisenhower, at the moment he was indirectly rebuking Sen. McCarthy for his treatment of a general, said primary responsibility for fair play in Senate investigations rests with Senate Republicans.

If he meant this as a recommendation to his Senate Republicans to clamp down on McCarthy, he found out fast they wanted no part of it. So, any brake on the Wisconsin Republican will probably have to be applied by Eisenhower.

IN A NEWS CONFERENCE statement last Wednesday, Eisenhower seemed to be disclaiming any responsibility for McCarthy's actions when he said:

'Obviously, it is the responsibility of the Congress to see to it that its procedures are proper and fair. I of course, expect the Republican membership of the Congress to assume the primary responsibility in this respect, since they are the majority party and therefore control the committees."

And he added he was glad to hear the Senate Republican leadership had taken steps to "set up codes of fair procedure." He was referring to the Senate Republican Policy Committee's meeting of a week before.

This committee made up of top Senate Republicans, had huddled when McCarthy's quarrel with the Army was reaching a peak. It decided to study rules and policies of procedure. That was pretty vague language.

IT WAS VAGUE enough to cover everything from doing much to doing nothing. The committee could decide, for instance, that the whole Senate ought to lay down ironclad rules to be sure its committees acted fairly.

That's a step Congress has never been willing to take. Each committee makes its own rules. Or the policy committee could just decide to let the committees alone.

A few hours after Eisenhower made his statetment about the "primary responsibility" of Congress to seek its procedures are fair and expressed gladness about what the policy committee might do, the committee met.

When it was over Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), the chairman emerged and said there was no intention of asking the Senate itself to form new rules.

'I suppose' Ferguson added "each chairman thinks he already has all the rules he needs, otherwise he would have done something about it."

AND SEN. KNOWLAND (R-Calif), Republican Senate floor leader, said there could be no question of "forcing a set of rules on committee chairmen."

In short, it seems that whatever is done will be left up to the committee chairman and committee members to do although the policy committee planned to talk some more about it.

Nevertheless, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) yesterday introduced a bill to establish by law a 'code of fair play' for congressional investigations and to create a single Senate-House internal security committee. That would mean taking authority for hunting Communists away from McCarthy's investigations subcommittee, and from others.

This seemed a piece of sheer optimism by Douglas. Other proposals, similar to Douglas', have been introduced earlier this year.

MEANWHILE, McCarthy was demanding radio-television time to reply to the Miami speech of Adlai Stevenson who Saturday night denounced the Wisconsin Republican and the Eisenhower administration too.

And McCarthy, being a man of many surprises, pulled another surprise this time. There was nothing new about his demand for air time to reply to a critic. But this was what was brand new now.

If he gets the radio-TV time, it was learned authoritatively, he plans, for the first time, to show in advance a copy of his remarks to the White House and national committee leaders for their suggestions.

While this could be considered a sign of new spirit of cooperation with the White House if the White House approved his speech in advance the Democrats might claim the President was now publicly blessing McCarthy.

A standard meter and kilogram kept in Washington, D.C. are so precise in their accuracy that the men who work with them do their work 10 feet away to avoid affecting results by body heat.

Ex-Communist Leader Freed by Italian Court

MATERA, Italy (AP)—A Communist leader who quit the party and came back from Czechoslovakia to stand trial was acquitted last night on charges of resisting public order.

The court freed Matteo Massenzio, former secretary of the local Red party unit, on grounds there was not enough evidence against him. He had been accused of leading Communists in a 1948 clash with the police in which several persons were injured.

Police said he had shouted during the riot "Give me the Red flag or give me death." During his trial he testified:

"I'm glad to be finally rid of this incubus. I chose liberty because no one knows better than I who've seen it at first hand what the Soviet paradise really is."

Sweden had 5,000 polio cases in 1953, highest since 1913.

Freedom by Concensus

Members of Congress are charged with responsibility for legislation. Perhaps it does not occur to them often enough that they have an even greater responsibility, which is to explore and crystallize into opinions the thoughts of their countrymen.

"There oughta be a law" has become one of the jokes of this self-governing nation. It reflects the tendency of lawmakers at all levels of government to try to cure everything that is sick or ailing by passing another law.

There are some matters which cannot be dealt with by merely passing another law. There are other matters on which no legislation is feasible until opinion has crystallized. With due respect to the able presentation of both points of view on Sen. Bricker's proposal for a constitutional amendment to curb the presidential power to make treaties and executive agreements, the long debate which ended last week revealed no crystallization of opinion on what kind of an amendment it should be.

The debate revealed a crystallization of opinion on only one thing—that the power to make treaties and executive agreements had been abused in the past on rare occasions but never should be abused on any occasion in the future.

On that point there was a consensus. Every member of the U.S. Senate agreed it had been wrong in the past and would be wrong in the future to make any treaty or agreement which would diminish the freedom of U. S. citizens without separate action by Congress.

The consensus is just as powerful in this instance as an amendment would have been, provided the Senate could have agreed on a proposal. It is in fact many times more powerful because it is final and absolute, whereas an amendment would have had to go through the long process of approval by the House of Representatives and ratification by three fourths of the states.

From now on, every treaty and every executive agreement will be under critical scrutiny for signs of danger under the rule that these may take precedence over domestic law. Congress, the White House, the State Department and the Courts have learned from a great debate in the Senate that they are expected to redouble their vigilance in behalf of freedom.

If the proposal for a constitutional amendment to curb the treaty power never were heard of again, it is entirely possible there might be no need to mention it again. The record of the Senate debate would have the effect of law.

Better Than Taxes

Since the prospect of paying U.S. income taxes year by year must be just as grim for Hawaiians and Alaskans as for Ohioans and Californians, there is growing interest in a suggestion that Hawaii and Alaska be made commonwealths instead of states.

As commonwealths, they would have everything states have, except votes in Congress and federal income taxes. They would run their own governments, pay their own taxes and be independent in all ways.

Their security would be guaranteed by the United States. So would their independence. They would be eligible for federal aid. They would have a voice in Congress, though no vote. They would participate in party matters and have a share in national defense, but they would not have a direct obligation to help pay for it on any terms but their own.

If Hawaii and Alaska were to see the merit of being commwealths, they would join Puerto Rico to make a commonwealth trio. The Philippine Islands' had commonwealth status for 10 years before becoming a republic in 1946.

The more it's talked about, the less reason there seems to be to add to the union as states any territory lying outside the United States.

No Volunteers in Indochina

Perhaps the Department of Defense, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the National Security Council, the State Department and the White House are of one mind about what will happen if U.S. military personnel get killed in Indochina.

The rest of us have not the faintest idea what would happen.

We can be sure of only one thing — that the Air Force personnel sent to Indochina to perform technical duties in the servicing of U.S.-made airplanes are not volunteers.

They are in Indochina under orders. The orders have taken them into a country beleagured by hostile troops whose supplies are known to be coming from Red China. Indochina could be another Korea.

The principal reason why it hasn't been one is the desire of the French tacticians to keep the war they are directing as localized as they can. They fear the consequences of having Indochina turned into a battleground for another clash between Red China and the United Nations.

If Washington knows what would happen if Air Force technicians sent to Indochina to service airplanes being used in that country's "civil war" were to be killed by Communists, it should tell what it has decided to do. The rest of us have a right to know.

Construction Boom

By David Lawrence

Best Business Year on Record Seen for 1954

There's something dynamic happening to the American economy right now. It looks as if the business upturn has started. It may result in making 1954 one of the best business years on record.

The facts are that the latest statistics on construction are sensational in their revelation of an unprecedented building boom. They show that the combined figures for January and February are the highest in all history; America's purchasing power is being increased by more than a billion dollars in only two months.

The details of the figures are to be announced within the next 48 hours by the F. W. Dodge Corporation whose nation-wide organization is relied upon by the government and by many industries for the authoritative compilation of construction permits throughout the United States — the most extensive reporting service of its kind in the world.

IT LOOKS NOW as if the combined January and February figures will exceed $2,100,000,000 for construction and this is a substantial increase over 1953. Indeed, when the multiplying factor of four is used, as is customary when estimating the resultant purchasing power, the months of January and February will represent about 9 billion dollars in purchasing power. Compared to last year this is more than a 10 per cent gain.

The F. W. Dodge figures are always based on reports from 37 states but past experience by the Department of Commerce which estimates them for the other 11 states show that the trend revealed in the 37 states usually materializes in the remainder of the states.

What this means is that lumber, steel, and other materials used in construction will be in greater demand and employment will begin to show a marked increase as permits are translated into operating contracts this year.

Businesses engaged in furnishing homes and equipping plants and buildings and offices should naturally benefit, too.

Mortgage money is beginning to flow freely and projects which were delayed last year are being approved every day now with plenty of financing available from the insurance companies and other lending instrumentalities.

-:-

THE SIGNIFICANT evidence is that an expanding economy which is feeling every year the effects of an increase in population and financial sinews cannot be interrupted for long.

What the American people are doing is to spend more money for new homes.

The figures for new residence construction just compiled for February are way ahead of January, 1954 and way ahead of February 1953. So also are the figures for non-residential construction which are far ahead of the same two months a year ago.

It is indicated now that February 1954 figures will show the biggest February ever reported in the country for new construction of all kinds.

Incidentally the figures for utilities and public works show a marked gain over the first two months of last year so that the advance is not merely in residential and non-residential construction. Yet the utility and public works construction is only a small percentage of the total amount of building being done.

MANY OF THE STEEL companies which are appraising the construction to be done in the next few months are already aware of what the latest statistics for January and February 1954 show and they are making plans to meet the new demands.

The main impact of the new construction will come in the spring and summer months as construction goes into its stride with the improved weather. But the planning going on now and the applications for building permits in city and state government bureaus and offices transcend anything of the kind that has ever been recorded in private construction.

All this does not take into account the expansion that is coming in highway construction.

When this gains the momentum expected it is likely that the entire boom will prove that the politicians in Washington had an unnecessary case of jitters.

The Democrats in Congress who have been using the word "depression" so often in their speeches and a few Republicans who have grown timid and have called for tax exemptions in order to increase purchasing power will have red faces when all the facts become known about the increases in construction.

IT COULD HAPPEN, of course, that a political-minded Congress by slashing the government's tax revenues recklessly might do untold harm to the economy and bring on the very recession that it intended to cure. Before acting on some of the pending tax proposals for deep cuts in revenue, Congress might better study the figures on new construction and back up Secretary Humphrey in his fight to save the American dollar from being reduced drastically in purchasing power.

This collapse could come about if the federal budget were unbalanced by many billions of dollars in the ensuing year. An unbalanced budget can destroy the confidence of the public and kill off plans for business expansion whereas the American economy can go on to record heights of prosperity if Congress doesn't pass hampering laws.

The stage is set for an end to the business readjustment that began when the fighting stopped in Korea. An era of sound expansion now is in sight.

Brushing Up

By TRUMAN TWILL

It is no wonder the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America did some official worrying in their Los Angeles convention this year about the do - it - yourself movement.

Union painters also are worrying about this movement. Everybody's worrying about it but the paint manufacturers, who are happy as kids with plenty of paint and no one to inhibit them.

Having qualified by a house painting last summer and an interior decorating job this winter as an expert in do-it-yourself painting, we feel free to say a few words about this movement.

We do not think the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America have much to worry about. No one is likely to shove them to the wall. They'll always be able to get by on the big jobs that will come their way.

We do not think the union painters—or professional painters who are non-union—have anything to worry about either. If they will take the trouble to look into this situation, they will see that do-it-yourself painters are not elbowing them out of a livelihood, because the kind of painting the amateurs do would not be done at all if it had to be done by professionals charging x dollars an hour.

There is, in other words, merely a net increase in the amount of painting being done in this country because millions of square feet of surface are being covered with fresh paint which otherwise would not have been covered at all, or at least not covered so frequently.

Nevertheless, there is something to worry about in connection with the do-it-yourself movement — and we are worrying about it as one of the minions of the movement.

What starts out to be a spare-time project which is going to be knocked for a loop in jib-time order becomes a 40-pound albatross hung around a householder's weary neck.

What starts out to be a little old lark with a paint brush turns into a rehabilitation project because when the woodwork looks better the wallpaper looks worse. When that is improved, there has to be new carpeting, and when that is done the furniture looks crummy—and before it's over the whole house has been refurnished on the hard-payment plan.

A householder who gets embroiled in this kind of a rat race begins to think like a rat. He gets sneaky and furtive and thinks up excuses to keep from getting at his brush work of an evening. Thus the job which was to have been done in a week hangs on for months while tempers shorten.

In other words, gentlemen of the brush and pigment, we amateurs are firmly convinced that whatever you fellows charge for doing this sort of thing professionally is half what Do-It-Yourself would charge if he had nothing ahead of him the rest of his life but the prospect of keeping paint off windows and all the other places where it doesn't belong but seems determined to go anyway.

Marxism Becomes Fiction of Century

By Raymond Moley

I wish to draw attention to a bit of mythology with which writers, professors, statesmen and others who should know better have been obsessed for more than a century. It indeed has been responsible for a century - long witch-hunt.

I am not speaking here of those members of Congress and others who have performed a great public service in exposing Communism and their friends in government and in educational institutions.

I am referring to a false statement of historical fact which has furnished half the argument for those who have proposed revolutionary change in our society.

THAT STATEMENT of "fact that is not fact" is that the rise of mechanical industrialism has been attended by parallel impoverishment of workers.

This was the very cornerstone of the revolutionary creed of Marx and Engels. It was spread into innumerable books and legislative proposals by sentimentalists in England and the United States.

It was accepted uncritically by a large part of the so-called intellectual classes of both nations. It has become embedded in the histories that have taught millions of children. It is anti-industrial and anti-capitalist

Without it the delusion of socialism might never have captured the minds of so many otherwise sane people.

This delusion is briefly and clearly exposed in a little book recently issued by the University of Chicago Press and edited by F. A. Hayek. It is called, "Capitalism and the Historians."

Professor T. S. Ashton of the University of London, who contributes the first article, completely demolishes the Marxian hypothesis — it was never more than that — that industrialism ushered in poverty with all its distressing trimmings.

THE POINT in Ashton's essay is that historians drew most of their factual information from the reports of Royal Commissions and Committees of Inquiry which investigated the condition of the working classes during the 1830's, '40's, and '50's of the nineteenth century.

Those reports dealt as a matter of course with what was bad, with what needed correction. Governments never appoint committees to write glowing accounts of what is present in society. They are quite properly appointed, just as our congressional committees are appointed, to probe into what is wrong and needs correction by some form of legislation.

Compare, for example, the report of the Senate Committee a few years back on the RFC with the fine book of Jesse Jones on the work of that institution. Both are true. The Senate report dealt not only with a different period but with conditions that needed correction.

Quite as a matter of course also historians turn to such reports as source material. They are regarded as of much higher authenticity than the mere writings of individual observers. They enjoy that designation. "government reports," so treasured by people who want to make a case.

Following Ashton's essay is one by a brilliant American economic historian, Louis Hacker of Columbia. Hacker shows how American historians such as Beard and Gustavus Myers were infected with this delusion and passed it on into our schools and colleges.

Even Henry George, a staunch enemy of socialism, writing in the 1870's and 80's fell for the delusion. Hence the great paradox of "Progress and Poverty."

Facts won't lie, but unfortunately people may get hold of the wrong facts.

Danish Mardi Gras

By Richard L. Thomas

Richard L. Thomas of Marion is a Fulbright scholarship student at the Foreign Graduate School, University of Copenhagen. His experiences and observations will appear in this space from time to time.

While carefree Americans gaily enjoyed the Mardi Gras celebrations in New Orleans, Europeans were likewise engaged with similar pre-Lenten festivals. The rationale for these celebrations is the same, a time of gay parties before the fasting and denials of Lent, but the festivities in each country have peculiar local characteristics.

In Denmark, the whole week preceding Ash Wednesday is known as Fastelavn — an innocent title covering parties and pranks of unique nature. Fastelavn originally designated only the day before Lent, but was gradually applied to the three days before Ash Wednesday, and now, apparently bowing to the Danish weakness for good times and extended holidays, the name signifies the whole week prior to Lent.

THE HISTORICAL ORIGIN of Fastelavn is rather obscure. Originally Fastelavn was not a Christian celebration, but a pagan feast or spring festival, at which time the evil spirits of the dark and cold winter were supposedly conquered by the spirits of the new spring. Mock battles took place between the icicles of winter and the burgeoning branches of spring — with spring always victorious. Overtures were also made to the God of Fertility to insure a bountiful summer.

Gradually, however, the Christian concept of the pre-Lenten festival became associated with the pagan idea, and now the two are combined in one. Little thought actually attends the significance of the occasion, the celebrations becoming more and more their own justification.

In Denmark, most of the celebrations are organized for children. Early on Fastelavn morning they dress in fantastic costumes and creep into their parents room to awaken and belabor them for the traditional raisin muffins. Then, still dressed and masked in the same costumes, they roam the streets all day long, singing Fastelavn ditties and stopping from door to door to beg coins for the containers carried with them. It is all very similar to Halloween in the States.

THEN THERE is the custom of "knocking the cat off the barrel." Once this had ritualistic significance, that of driving off evil spirits, but now it is simply a game. A wooden barrel is suspended between two poles, and the participants take turns at striking it with a bat. Formerly the barrel contained a live cat to be driven out, but through the efforts of the Danish Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, a toy cat now replaces the live one, and the barrel is also stuffed with goodies. After being sufficiently battered, the barrel inevitably falls apart and the contents are eagerly collected by the players. (Each participant pays a nominal fee for each whack at the barrel in order to cover expenses.) The one to strike the final, shattering blow is crowned Cat King, to the admiration and envy of the other contestents.

With the exception of these local customs, most of the other celebrating takes on various forms. Parties of all types are held and each is called a Fastelavn party. Most are of a costume-carnival nature, however, reflecting the gay and make - merry atmosphere of the occasion. As a time of indulgence for those girding themselves for self-denial during Lent, and for those indulging merely for indulgence's sake, Fastelavn undoubtedly serves its purpose well. As an occasion for chasing off the evil spirits of winter, however, Fastelavn isn't very successful. Winter in Scandinavia usually lasts well into April, and the dark spirits show no indication of retreating before that time.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Forecast for Geneva

The conference opens with a silent toast to the old League of Nations. Switzerland formally welcomes the delegates and notifies them that they will be held responsible for all damage to the furnishings.

1. A roll call shows everybody present and ready for trouble. Red China demands to know why she is not present as a recognized state. Russia seconds the motion. The argument gets a two weeks' run in 3-D propaganda.

2. Russia insists it is present as a neutral. Dulles says, "We have gone over all this before." Russia replies, "But not on a European road tour." It is voted to limit all speeches on this matter to three days per speech with the rebuttals made from bobsleds on sharp curves.

-:-

3. Red China renews its speeches for recognition, basing the claim on three grounds (1) altitude; (2) better visibility; (3) tourist rights.

-:-

4. Mr. Dulles calls attention to the Berlin agreement that the invitation signed by Molotov which clearly specified the attendance of Red China would not involve recognition. Mr. Molotov says he was drugged.

-:-

5. England takes the position she doesn't care who is recognized so long as she gets the business. Air Force May Use Jet Tankers

Mid-Air Refueling of Bombers Studied

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force may turn to swift, jet-powered tanker planes to provide mid-air refueling for the new B52 all-jet heavy bombers of the Strategic Air Command.

The B52s are expected to begin coming off the production line late this year. Each is being equipped to replenish its fuel supply in flight to offset rate of fuel consumption by its eight thirsty jet engines.

Mid-air refueling for medium B47 jet bombers is standard practice.

Piston Engine Craft

All tanker planes now used are piston-engined aircraft, the KC97 Boeing Stratofreighter, with tanks and a "flying boom" for transfer of fuel to jet bombers or fighters.

Airmen are highly pleased with the current method of replenishing jet bombers and fighters in mid-flight. But they also say that a loss in efficiency, in time and in fuel, will always exist when a jet bomber refuels from a piston-engined tanker. The reason:

A jet engine performs best at high altitude, where the air is thin. A piston-engined aircraft produces more power at lower altitudes. The B47 usually cruises at 30,000 feet or above. The KC97, toting a hefty 6,000 or 7,000 gallons of jet fuel in addition to its own gasoline, has a practical ceiling for refueling of about 20,000 feet. To refuel, the bomber must descend 10,000, then climb back with the accompanying high fuel consumption rate for a climb.

What is true of the B47 medium will have ever greater effect in refueling of the B52, a much bigger and somewhat faster plane.

Experiments Continue

The Air Force disclosed last fall that it was experimenting with a B47 converted to a tanker plane by the Boeing Airplane Co. The Boeing company announced last week that its new jet transport, a prototype of which is being built, can be utilized as a tanker.

Boeing expects to get a cruising speed of about 550 miles for the transport. This would bring the speed of a tanker up to a satisfactory match with a jet bomber—and at the same time make it possible to operate the tanker at the bomber's normal cruising altitude. Dimensions of the jet transport are almost as great as that for the piston-engined tanker.

Endorsed for Congress

Democrats in California Support James Roosevelt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — James Roosevelt, accused by his estranged wife of being a philanderer, has won the endorsement of the Democratic party as its candidate for Congress in the 26th District.

Prior to the endorsement by the 26th District Democratic Council, made by acclamation on the second ballot, the 46-year-old insurance executive said in a speech that he decided to enter the race to "obliterate" charges against him and "slurs against the ideals of my father."

No Direct Reference

The eldest son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt made no specific reference to his wife's suit, but he did say: "Personal questions are being used not only against me but against the Democratic party."

He added that the "questions" left him two choices, either to retire from public life, which he said would acknowledge "evidence of guilt and lack of courage," or:

"To come before the people and get elected to Congress and make a record which forever would be an answer to any smears the opposition would make."

In her suit, Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt, 38, named three co-respondents and filed a letter signed by Roosevelt and admitting infidelities with nine other women. He has denied all the charges, saying he was forced to sign the letter in 1945 to prevent his wife from divorcing him and thus adding to the burdens of his father as president.

Eleven candidates originally were in the running for the party's backing. But Roosevelt's only serious competition came from Jerry Pacht, son of a former Superior Court judge. Pacht trailed Roosevelt by only 12 votes on the first ballot and finally lost by only 14 on the second, when Roosevelt got 91—only one more than the 90 required for endorsement.

However, after Roosevelt received 91 votes, Pacht moved that the endorsement be made unanimous. The 197 delegates responded with a roar of applause.

Prior to the balloting of the 11 aspirants, Jerry K. Harter, 35, an attorney, said he came "without the benefit of a cocktail party for the delegates." He was alluding to a party Roosevelt gave Saturday night.

Publisher Withdraws

Another aspirant, Ned Redding, 48, newspaper publisher, withdrew his candidacy through a telegram in which he said he felt that Democratic processes were being denied through the preprimary convention.

Paul Ziffren, Democratic national committeeman, who served as chairman, read the telegram and denied the council sought to bypass the primary ballot. The California primary election will be June 8.

On Feb. 24 the court ordered Roosevelt to pay $1,625 monthly to support his wife and their three small children pending trial of the separate maintenance suits.

Duke Markell, rookie pitcher for the Phillies, was born in Paris, France. In 1953, he pitched a no-hit game for Syracuse in the International League.

Students at Sparta Plan Play and May Program

SPARTA — The Sparta seniors will present the comedy, "Everybody's Crazy," this Friday night. The play is directed by Mrs. Lois Wagner.

Students of the upper six grades of the school elected Wanda Vernon as May queen to be crowned by the 1953 queen, Catharine Burch, on the May Day program the night of April 30. Attendants for the queen are as follows: Thelma Cavrett, Shirley Matney, Sandra Surman, Ruth Ann Thurston, and Hilda Addison. The queen and her attendants will select their own escorts for the court.

Life, Not Death

By REV. F. E. KLINE
Pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church

"I am come that ye may have life and have it abundantly."—John 10:10.

No one really wants to die. Even he who takes his own life would prefer to live. He dies, hoping that possibly there yet may be found a way out.

Everyone, sinful men, seek and ask for life—for the ways and means essential to living. Sometimes in dire circumstances, like a drowning man, one grasps at the "straws" desperately.

What some accept, however, as life, or the way of life, often proves disappointing: they do not find the joy and peace and power of true living. But whenever one turns sincerely to the Master of Life, he finds. There one beholds the Light, the Truth, the Love of God personified, and believing, lives.

PRAYER

O God, our Father, we praise Thee for this fountain of truth and life. We find Thy love fulfilling every inner yearning, satisfying the deepest thirst. Thy Spirit brings forgiveness and cleansing, gives the heart new hope and joy and peace. This is life abundant. We thank Thee, and pray Thee to lead us all into still more of Thy glorious fullness. Amen.

UNUSUAL DEDUCTION

SPOKANE, Wash. (UP)—A woman asked the local internal revenue bureau office if the cost of feeding a cat—if he's a good mouser—is a legitimate business deduction on an income tax report. She explained the cat caught mice at her motel. Stanley Fogelquist in charge of the office said business expenses have to be "necessary and ordinary — this may be necessary, but it's not ordinary." However, to be sure, he passed the question along to Washington, D.C.

Barefoot Look Featured in New Shoes

Lightweight Stock, Wide Range of Colors Mark Styles for Spring

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

American women can be as light - footed as they like this spring and summer, with mere wisps of shoes in new lightweight tropical leathers available in all colors of the rainbow.

The barefoot look is big news in the new shoe lineup, some high - style models consisting merely of a thin sole, dime-size spike heel and shoestring strips of leather. These will be worn not only with cocktail or evening gown, but also with ordinary daytime outfits.

THE WIDE RANGE of colors in new leather shoes sets a new record this year. More than 50 shades are being shown, including the harlequin colors such as parakeet, a deep turquoise, tangerine, a deep orange and coral. All the pastels are present in the lineup, from off-whites to shocking pink; in addition there are many tones of red, green, purple, blue, gray, gunmetal and bronze.

Important for dress-up shoes are the new pearlized leathers, which have a mother-of-pearl sheen.

Te open silhouette is popular both in high-heeled shoes and in flats for casual wear, so that the girl with beautiful feet is in luck this year. Since many of the new styles expose all five toes, a boom in pedicures is predicted. Toenail grooming will be just as important as fingernail care this season.

THOUGH THE NEW shoe styles look gay and frivolous, they require expert construction and top quality leathers to achieve correct balance comfort. The slender strips of leather which hold the shoe in place must be applied with engineering skill, and the leather itself must have sufficient strength and suppleness to do the job of an entire vamp.

American tanners, designers and shoe manufacturers have worked together to achieve this new and colorful light-footed look, a fitting accent to the beautiful legs for which American girls are famous.

For women who insist on more coverage, there are plenty of classic pumps available, also, with closed toe and heel. These, however, usually are cut lower than formerly, for comfot and femininity, and are being shown in the new light-weight leathers and in colors to match any costume.

BAREFOOT LOOK IN LEATHER. Here are some of the most important styles in the spring shoe lineup, featuring the open silhouette in new light-weight tropical leathers, available in more than 50 colors.

PLAYTIME FOOTPRINTS. Casual shoes run the full gamut this year from spectator pumps to soft flats, in high colors and supple leathers for every taste.

Wife of Roosevelt's Grandson Seeks Divorce

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Mrs Robin Roosevelt, wife of Curtis (Buzzie Dall) Roosevelt, has applied for a divorce in Juarez, charging mental cruelty.

Judge Oscar Martinez indicated it would be granted today.

Roosevelt is the grandson of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He became known to millions of Americans as "Buzzie Dall" when as a youth he lived in the White House for a time with his sister Sistie.

Mrs Roosevelt, the former Robin Edwards of Brentwood, Calif., is the daughter of an executive engineer at Douglas Aircraft.

Oklahoma Woman Professor Popular

An Oasis in Desert, Her Students Describe Marian Mount

OKLAHOMA CITY — Prof. Marian Mount is one in a thousand at Oklahoma City University Technical School.

She's the only woman instructor in a school of a 1,000 male students into which coeds seldom venture.

A female oasis in a desert of men, is the way the collegians regard Marian, who is 28 and often mistaken for a coed herself. That fact, she says, can seriously complicate the job of teaching drafting in the industrial arts school.

—:—

SHE MUST not only be an expert at drafting, she must also be adept at parrying advances from college Romeos.

To accomplish this, Mirian is cool, efficient and businesslike.

"I have to be that way," she explains, "because when the fellows first come into the class, they're prone to flirt.

"By being businesslike, they sort of forget I'm a woman—particularly when they find out I know what I'm talking about."

Having 1,000 men all to herself has another complication when the news gets around to wives of married students.

"LOTS OF WOMEN have called me on the telephone and bluntly asked me what I look like," she laughs.

"They usually say they are coming out to visit the class. That's when I tell them that I am short, fat and sloppy—and they don't bother anymore."

When all else fails and they barge in anyway, she has a surefire remedy. Mrs. Mount shows them a picture of her husband and small son.

FEMALE OASIS. Prof. Marian Mount, only woman among 1,000 men at Oklahoma City University Technical School, with some of her pupils. The catch is: she's married, has a baby, insists on stern discipline.

Dressmaker Draws Praise

French Awed by Ability Of U.S. Businesswoman

The business ability of American women is making headlines in France.

Most recent subject of French comment is Adele Simpson, a tiny dynamo who, with her partner, Eleanor Graham, runs one of America's biggest and most successful wholesale dressmaking firms.

"Agence Quotidienne," a Paris equivalent of the Wall Street Journal, devoted almost a full page recently to an awestruck dissertation on the methods and magnitude of the firm which bears Adele's name. The paper's New York correspondent, Max Dorian, remarked on the difference between the custom dressmaking houses of Paris and the vast wholesale production of New York."

"In this respect (quality mass production) American houses have held their own against all competition. The most outstanding among them, considering the importance of business transactions as well as the remarkable finish of its 'serial' creations, is "Adele Simpson, Inc."

". . . The offices of the firm are located not far from Times square. In contrast to our great dressmaking houses there is no pretense here for atmosphere. They dispense with the expensive front which impresses and seduces the clientele, as they do business with professional buyers only. . . here, all sales are final. The garment manufacturers buy their fabrics by placing firm orders in advance. One point stands out clearly: While Paris leads the styles of fashion, the greatest risks are taken in New York, so that the exclusivity is followed by quantity."

Mrs Simpson is a minature, less than 5-feet tall, tipping the scales at less than 100 pounds, with a soft, little-girl voice anda shy manner.

Forest Residents Will Observe Village's Centennial in August

FOREST — The centennial of the founding of the village of Forest will be celebrated by the village and surrounding community August 4-8.

The celebration will open with a pageant depicting the outstanding events in the history of the community. The final day, Sunday, August 8, will be given over to the churches which are planning special services to close the celebration.

Switzer Has Charge

The Forest Community Centennial Inc., the name under which the event is being managed has as its general chairman, Carroll Switzer. Don Zuber is secretary and Richard Albert, treasurer.

The history of the community is being written by V. Q. Stauffer. The historical membership is in charge of Glen Bunnell.

NAMED AT BUCYRUS

BUCYRUS — Election of three directors featured the annual shareholders meeting of the Crawford Farm Bureau Cooperative Association held here Saturday night. Named directors for three-year terms were Leo Sharrock, Earl Ross and Albert Shafer. W. B. Davis, co-op manager, reported gross sales last year amounted to $1,401,928 with net "savings" totaling $30,710. Principal speaker was Wayne Shidaker, vice president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Association in Columbus.

There were about 1,553,000 marriages in the United States in 1953.

Legal Ethics

By George Sokolsky

In the mutterings against the confusions of an era of rejection of ancient and established forms, various professions turn to a self-examination of their procedures and seek to re-establish by self-legislation ethical codes of conduct which used to be accepted as part of a way of life.

SOKOLSKY

I recently partook of such fare at the Institute on Legal Ethics at the College of Law of the University of Florida at Gainesville, Florida.

The problem presented to the assembled panel was what the layman thought of the legal profession, which is not a sound question to ask because there are all sorts of lawyers and all sorts of laymen. For instance, those lawyers who are most concerned about legal ethics generally practice them behind closed doors, keeping their names and affairs out of newspapers, living happily in an obscurity of their own choosing.

THEY REGARD IT as unethical for lawyers to advertise directly or indirectly and fear that the lawyer who gets his name and photograph into newspapers is really practicing an indirect form of advertising. They themselves eschew such matters as interviews and comments on great subjects and would never soil their hands by such ugly matters as murders and divorces, although crime and disruption are enormously important in our society.

The public, however, is more interested in the human side of the law. A murder is always fascinating, particularly if the murderer happens to be a woman. The people's instinct in the matter is correct because murders and similar horrors mirror the society in which we live.

The duel between Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr is a classical example of a murder which makes everlastingly interesting reading.

A kidnaping is important to the community not only in which it occurs, but everywhere in the country. Parents would resent a censorship which kept such news from them.

SUCH A NUPTIAL battle as involved Bobo Rockefeller or the James Roosevelts is appealing news to most Americans who are disturbed by a marriage system which only too often is a disguised form of polygamy and polyandry, arranged by lawyers for profit and the participants for their convenience.

The public likes big names on the general principle that the proletariat always finds it delightful when the upper classes slip. It may be catering to vulgar tastes to tell the truth about such matters; yet when one thinks about it, it is the participants who may be the vulgarians.

The gentlemen among whom I spent this delightful evening on ethics criticized the ethics of those lawyers and even judges who use such occasions as divorces to get all the free advertising they can. A reporter knows how anxious the lawyers are for a little headline or a photograph.

Judges are malefactors in this sense and drop a well-chosen bon mot to get a laugh, in the hope that their pearls of sarcasm, if not wisdom, will find their way to posterity.

THE ETHICAL lawyers, who hide their fame beneath a self-imposed obscurity, may look down their noses at these lawyers, always forgetting that the public does not, and that while their fame may be enormous within the profession, most citizens never heard of them.

Their influence upon the community, therefore, is hardly noticeable, whereas the others are regarded as "The Legal Profession" because they are known.

If the ethical lawyers want it to be otherwise, they have to go among the people, but then they would have to explain the enormous cost of any brush with the law, the great delays in the courts which not only add to costs but often create such confusion that the citizen for several years does not know where he stands and has to live with a legal cloud over his head.

They would have a hard time making the laymen understand why the barnacles on the rules of evidence make a trial, which ought to take a few hours, last days on end while the lawyers maneuver over what is and what is not admissible. Most of it sounds silly.

The lawyers can do much to clean all this up, but they cannot do it by censorship, suppression, or by advising the citizens, rather than lawyers, about ethics

Engineer Says Opposition to Dam Declining

Army Officer Heard On Dillon Project At House Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Opposition to the Dillon Reservoir project near Zanesville, Ohio, has declined among people living in the area, an Army Engineer officer has told Congress.

"I have understood from personal conversations that there is a very decided desire for this project now," Brig. Gen. C. H. Chorpening testified before a House appropriations subcommittee.

"I would never say that all opposition has disappeared, but I believe there is less opposition now than there has been in the past."

The general's testimony was given in secret sessions. The subcommittee published it yesterday.

The government already has spent $9,189,80 on the Muskingum River flood control project. Total estimated cost is $27,061 000 President Eisenhower has asked for two million dollars to continue work on Dillon during the year starting July 1, 1954.

Chorpening testified about opposition to the project in response to a question by subcommittee Chairman Davis (R Wis).

Chorpening said the differences over Dillon took the "usual pattern"—that is, people whose lands would be taken away were against it and those downstream who would benefit were for it.

To justify the project, the general cited a flood in January 1952. Zanesville suffered damage of $304,000 he said, and $206,000 of that would have been prevented by Dillon Dam.

"At Marietta," he continued, "there were flood damages of $2,350,000, of which $1,150,000 would have been prevented by this reservoir."

In 1948, he said, flood damage at Marietta amounted to $6,415,000, of which $1,350,000 would have been prevented by the reservoir.

Damage that year at Zanesville, he said, was $70,000, of which $45,000 would have been prevented.

Chorpening was asked why the cost of Dillon had leaped from an original estimate of 19 million to 27 million dollars.

He gave these reasons:

1. General price rise of materials and labor. 2. Development in the area has increased price of real estate the government must buy. 3. The spillway design has been improved. 4. It was discovered the foundation in some places was sandstone, necessitating an expensive capping process.

Davis also asked Chorpening if there had been differences of opinion over relocating the tracks of the Baltumore and Ohio Railroad.

Chorpening replied he knew of no "difficulties there."

In addition to flood control, Chorpening said, the permanent pools of water would be of great value to recreation or possible wildlife preserves.

"We estimate, and we believe this is on the conservative side," he said, "that because of its proximity to Zanesville and Columbus . . . this reservoir will receive over 250,000 visitors a year."

Dillon also would help reduce pollution in the Muskingum and, to a lesser degree, the Ohio River, he testified.

He concluded "The reservoir, of course, does not benefit the people above the reservoir that live in that pool area at all, and the people below benefit in varying degrees, dependent upon how far downstream they are from the structures."

Maine Mother Drowns Her 3 Children in Tub

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP)—A distraught young housewife who wrote a message that "God told me" today faced a murder charge in the bathtub drownings of her three children.

County Atty. Joseph B. Campbell said Mrs. Constance Fisher, 24, would be arraigned in Municipal Court

Richard Fisher, 6, his brother Daniel, 4, and their sister Deborah, 1, were found dead in their home yesterday by their father Carl, 33, who smashed a door to gain entrance.

Richard's body lay face down in the tub. The others were on beds.

Campbell said Mrs Fisher was huddled in a blanket under a bed. He said she had swallowed some liquid shampoo in a suicide attempt, but it had no serious effect.

Fisher, a Maine Central Railroad employe, was temporarily prostrated when he discovered the bodies and a note scrawled on wrapping paper.

Campbell said Mrs Fisher wrote her husband:

"It was so hard to do but God told me it was the only way I could save them. They are in heaven safe forever from evil."

The Fisher family physician said Mrs. Fisher had been subject to periods of depression and had consulted a psychiatrist about them.

Commie Crow

By Victor Riesel

Of course, the Russian propagandists beat us to the radio airwaves with their version of the Puerto Rican Nationalists' shooting in Congress. Even those official "friends" of ours, Tito's Yugoslavian Communist commentators—as monitored by our intelligence services—joined their tougher northern comrades in telling the world that we run a kind of palm tree concentration camp in the Caribbean.

RIESEL

Who has told the world anything different? Certainly not our State Department nor our Interior Department. For all that's been heard from those marbled halls you'd think that Puerto Rico was a way station between the U.S. and Blue Beard's Castle in the Virgin Isles and that the Puerto Ricans live out of rain barrels instead of having a per capita earning which puts the island fifth in personal income among all the South and Central American nations.

SINCE NOBODY else wants to tell the story, I will. I've seen the Puerto Rican swamp slum the other side of the San Juan Airport, down the line from the big yacht club. That stenchful blot does exist. But let's not overlook the rest of the island, where the death rate, for example, is lower than in the U.S.

To keep the crow stuck in the craw of the Soviet broadcasters, let it be known, too, that the average life expectancy of a Puerto Rican worker today is 61 years—just about double that of the Soviet empire outside the Russians' major industrial cities.

The Puerto Rican island makes tens of thousands of jobs for the continental U.S. by purchasing some 450 million dollars worth of material each year. In addition it gives many a businessman a chance to go down to San Juan, Arecibo, Mayaques, Ponce, and other communities and run plants tax free. There is no income tax. And they can live quite inexpensively in lush tropical weather up around Condado Beach.

Furthermore, the Puerto Rican government will positively not permit any tax relief to be enjoyed by mainland U.S. industrialists if they close up plants here and throw "continentals" out of jobs in the hope of escaping to lower labor costs and income tax exemptions in Puerto Rico.

THE PUERTO RICANS buy over 1,100 new autos a month—which is more than the Soviet proletariat can boast of in a year. All this is done without taking money from us—they do it under a self-help program called "Operation Bootstrap," instead of running weeping to Washington like so many of Europe's great phrase producing statesmen.

This past year, under the gentle and erudite Governor Munoz-Marin, the little island has built 128 new factories. In the past 13 years, the Puerto Ricans have created 1,388 industries. And wages are going up.

The AFL and CIO organizers are seeing to it that insular pay is beginning to creep up to match continental U.S. pay so the mainlanders don't suffer by competing with the lower rate.

This past week, AFL leader David Dubinsky, who recently returned from the island, announced plans for a unionizing drive in Puerto Rico aimed at signing up some 20,000 needle workers there.

While the Communist propagandists from Moscow to Guatemala pour millions of words into the air boasting of their educational and land reform systems, the Puerto Ricans have outstripped the Soviet empire in fighting illiteracy and in distributing the land.

GOV. MUNOZ-MARIN revealed recently that the literacy rate has gone up from 68 per cent to 78 per cent since 1940, and he "expects to abolish illiteracy completely within six years."

"We are proud of our three outstanding institutions of higher learning," he added. "Our state university has three fine campuses and 12,000 students. We spend $1,300,000 annually on scholarships in hopes of assuring that no intelligent, capable young man or woman who could make a contribution to the future welfare of our people need go without the higher education which would equip them to make that contribution."

To match the swift industrial growth — which has actually outstripped every other country in the tropical clime between the Tropics of Cancer and Capricorn — Puerto Rico has a land authority which buys land and sets up new rural villages for workers and farm hands.

Thousands of working class families have little cottages and garden plots of their own—and a social life and stake in their country to keep them from migrating by air lift to the big continental cities such as New York and Chicago.

Why does our State Department stutter in telling this story? Why does the Department of Interior, which oversees Puerto Rico, feel so inferior before the world? That palm tree island may not yet be paradise, but most definitely it's no tropical slave camp.

Baltimore Council Will Investigate Threatening Letter

BALTIMORE (AP) — "Look out Council you are next for a big shooting you low sewer rats."

That was the pencil-scrawled, unpunctuated message received yesterday by the Baltimore City Council. The word "Communist" appeared at the end of the message and it was not known whether it was meant as a signature or a slur.

The councilmen accepted the message quite calmly, several of them commenting that they often receive anonymous cards or letters. This one wasn't addressed to any individual councilman.

Yesterday's message merited a second look, however because of the recent shooting in the House of Representatives in Washington.

Jazz Expert

By Eddy Gilmore

(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK

One of the most articulate men in America is a banjo player who never got beyond the eighth grade.

His name is Eddie Condon (born Albert Edward Condon), a high priest of pure jazz, who has a consistency akin to th late Babe Ruth's.

The Babe never threw to a wrong base. Eddie never played a wrong chord.

After an honest start on the banjo, Condon has come down to the guitar and he's one of the best in the business. He's a man not given to bragging. The only self praise I ever heard him indulge in was the remark, "I've never played a solo in my life."

It's Eddie's articulation with words, not music, that fascinates so many of his listeners and friends. Consider his comment on an eminent French music critic who denounced American jazz.

"Who does that frog think he is," asked Eddie, "to come over here and try to tell us how to play? We don't go over there and tell them how to jump on a grape.'

THAT IS TYPICAL of Eddie.

His name for friends and people are just as amusing.

I was talking to him the other night about a mutual friend who, although he'd never been south of South Chicago, suddenly developed a very strong case of south mouth.

"He's really got a southern accent," I said.

"He certainly has," commented Eddie. "He talks like Amos and Andy."

Condon has no opinion on the subject of bop. He just never thinks of it. If he did Im sure he would loathe it, but someone played a bop record for hi mthe other day and insisted he comment.

"I sat through a hurricane in 1944 on a beach out in Jersey," said Eddie, 'and this is very remindful of it.'

"Perhaps," observed the man who was interviewing him, "but how do you rate a record?"

"How do you rate a hurricane?" asked Eddie.

CONDON'S OBSERVATIONS on the human scene and on human beings are not confined to musicians. He introduced me to a college professor one night and later told me the prof once played football for Notre Dame.

"He looks a little old and frail for that," I said.

"Oh, he was playing before they put air in the football," he said.

The Condon household in New York's Greenwich Village is a seven room contradiction.

It's the apartment of a musician, yet there isn't a guitar or a banjo in the place.

Condon has made at least 500 phonograph records in his life, but there's no phonograph in his apartment and not a single record.

Eddie appreciate scotch whisky, but not on the home grounds. No bottle ever appears in the place unless some friends bring it. Down at his nightclub, however, Mr. Condon is known as a free pourer.

He has an unusual remedy for hangovers.

"For a hangover," he suggests, "take the juice of a quart of whisky".

ACTUALLY, he drinks 20 times as much milk as he does strong spirit. He eats nothing during the daylight hours, but his liquid par is three quarts of sweet milk and one quart of buttermilk.

His friend and cornet player, Wild Bill Davison recently opened antique shop somewhere on the Hudson.

"What are you going to call it?" Eddie asked.

"Trash and treasures," said Bill.

Eddie shook his head.

"What's wrong with that name?"

"Nothing," said Eddie, "But I would have called it 'wild bull and his china closet."

Condon is the sort of friend who doesn't give you one key to his apartment. He gives yur several.

"Tomorrow," he said to me one day, "when you're out in the world, will you have some keys made to this place?"

"How many?"

"One for Phyllis" (his clever, pretty wife), "one for me, one for the maid and four for you," he said, "you lose things."
